BANKER'S SEA FATE MYSTERY

JUDGES WRONG SOMEWHERE, IS VIEW OF JUDGES

Absolving of Three Accused Assailed.

The report of the court of inquiry absolving three Criminal court judges accused of paltering with crime, it was learned yesterday, was not approved unanimously by Cook county's judiciary, as was announced on Tuesday. Some of the judges, it developed, refused to pass on the 118 page recommendation of the investigating tribunal because they were given less than two hours to study the document.

Judge Albert C. Barnes of the Appellate court went one step farther than his colleagues and stated that there was indeed something wrong with the practice of waiving felony charges. This practice was the basis of the charges made against the three judges, Otto Kerner, Emanuel Eller, and Stanley Klarkowski, by Frank J. Leach, president of the Chicago crime commission.

Points to Waiver Reduction.

"Newspapers have reported that since Mr. Leach voiced his charges story writers have been reduced from five to a week to five a week," Justice Barnes commented. "Either the judges were wrong in granting a large number of waivers or they were wrong in reducing the number. Or they were intimidated."

"If the large number of waivers was justifiable, the criminal court judges, in reducing the number, were either admitting that they were wrong or were terrified into a failure to perform their duties."

Oppose Shifting of Blame.

"The report of the investigating committee placed all blame for the waivers on the shoulders of the state's attorney. Maybe the report justifies this conclusion. I haven't had time to digest it and I don't see how any one else has. But the shifting of responsibility for the conduct of the court is not in accordance with my view of judicial practice. I think it perfectly proper for the judge to inquire into a prosecutor's recommendations where the facts appear to warrant inquiry."

"The announcement that the committee's report was approved unanimously is another illustration of the danger of the public becoming misinformed through the growing tendency toward secrecy. The judges should open their doors to the press when dealing subjects of public interest. They shouldn't lock themselves up like a secret society or directors of a private corporation."

Vote for Quick Verdict.

The committee that drafted the report consisted of Judges Thomas Taylor, Denis E. Sullivan, Hugo Farn, Joseph Sabath, Harry Fisher and Kirkham Scanlan. They submitted the document to a meeting of all the judges at 2:30 p. m., on Tuesday. Justice Barnes moved for an adjournment to Friday to study the report. A minority voted for his motion but the majority decided to pass on the report at 4 p. m. This was done but Justice Barnes and some of those who had voted with him did not return to the second meeting, it was learned.

Judge Harry B. Miller and Michael McKinley said yesterday that they did not vote for or against the report because they had no time to read it.

Judge Lyle Assails Report.

Meanwhile Municipal Judge John H. Lyle in a speech last night hotly attacked the judges' report and praised Mr. Leach for his "service to the public in making known the true condition of the criminal bench."

Judge Lyle spoke at a meeting of the North Austin Lutheran Brotherhood, at La Moine street and Mason avenue.

"This report," he said, "is nothing more than an apology for the way criminal courts have been administered in Cook county. Every judge who approved that report knows that the wholesale reduction of felonies, the abuse of the writ of habeas corpus and the freeing of gunmen on low bonds are vicious practices and should have been condemned."

"Instead of writing a report that is an insult to the public intelligence, attempting to make the layman believe new laws is the cure, the judges should have admitted that what is needed is more men on the bench with intellectual fortitude to enforce the law."

"For my part, as a judge and as a layman, and although some of my political friends have been criticized, I feel it my duty to speak out and warn the people not to be misled by a political poultice of this sort."

'L' Takes Fare Boost Fight to Federal Court

Swift and important developments in several quarters yesterday renewed attention on the city's legal warfare with the Chicago Rapid Transit company, operating the elevated lines, over the regulation of fares, franchises, freight hauling, and contract agreements with outside concerns.

Beat Chamberlin by 576 Miles.

The day's developments in the controversy, briefly, were:

1. The company carried into the federal court its fight to abolish three-for-a-quarter tickets and weekly passes, and to establish a straight ten cent fare, filing a bill to enjoin the Illinois commerce commission from preventing the increase.
2. Patrick J. Lacey, counsel for the company, declared that the recent Supreme court decision in the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee case sustains the company's claim that it operates, in effect, with a perpetual franchise.
3. Members of the city council talked of blocking all subway and consolidation proceedings until the city's control over the elevated lines is clarified.
4. Ald. Joseph McDonough, chairman of the council transportation committee, announced that Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Ettelson will be summoned before the committee Monday to explain the alleged "blunder" whereby the city lost the North Shore case through its approval of the first Rapid Transit-North Shore agreement in 1919.

The appeal of the elevated company to the federal court in the fare boost case was not entirely unexpected. On June 28, when the company's plea was denied by the commerce commission, it was predicted that the lines, instead of appealing the decision, would seek immediate aid from the federal court on the ground that the present fares are confiscatory.

Attorney Harry J. Dunbaugh, who represented the company before the commerce commission, filed the injunction petition.

The bill charges that if the rates of fare now in effect are continued even for a limited period that the "plaintiff's property will be confiscated," that the commission's order violates "its rights under the fourteenth amendment to the constitution," and that therefore it is void. It asks for a temporary restraining order to "prevent immediate and irreparable injury, loss and damage to the plaintiff."

Loss Is $7,000 Daily.

The company now is losing $7,000 a day, which will allow it less than 2 per cent return on its valuation if the present trend of traffic continues, whereas it is entitled to 8 per cent. The higher fares, it claims, would not produce a return of more than 4.55.

After reciting a description of the companies' properties, the bill cites the fact that the commission agreed to a valuation of not less than $92,588,105. The commission's decision stated that "while it is unquestionably true that the company is not receiving the full return on its investment," the company was building up its patronage, and argued that higher rates would not be the solution of the situation.

Citing its reasons for entering the United States court, the company states that an appeal through the state courts would require a year or two and that meanwhile it would suffer the daily loss of $7,000, with no way to make recovery later.

Resentment at City Hall.

At the city hall, the action of the company in the fare increase case served to augment the wave of resentment prompted by a disclosure of the full significance of the North Shore line decision against the city. This decision, which denied the city's right to keep North Shore passenger

IS LOEWENSTEIN A SUICIDE OR IS HE STILL ALIVE?

After Death Report His Stocks Fall.

BULLETIN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LILLE, France, July 5.—A group of newspaper men, working on the theory his "death" was a hoax, are scattered over this vicinity late tonight in an attempt to find Capt. Alfred Loewenstein, who they believe is near here. The fact that his airplane landed at the coast town of Braine and then hopped to St. Ingelvert leads to the belief the financier may have got out at the first place and met an automobile, which took him to a retreat. Capt. Loewenstein's aids, after giving French police their version of the banker's death, have refused further comment.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 5.—The deepest mystery continues to envelop the dramatic disappearance of Capt. Alfred Loewenstein, the famous Belgian financier and sportsman, who it is announced, jumped or fell unnoticed from his plane into the English channel yesterday while en route from London to Brussels. An increasing number of Paris business and sporting associates, while still considering the aerial suicide and accidental death story, are discussing the possibility of the disappearance being a gigantic hoax.

They point out the fact that Capt. Loewenstein, who was a notorious plunger, was financially hard pressed, especially since he is said to have failed to get needed loans during his recent trip to America. They also doubt the stories which the authorities obtained from the quartet of his aids, who were accompanying the banker on the air voyage.

Possibly Splintered Away.

The plane landed first at one French village and then continued to another. It is pointed out that it would have been easily possible for the banker to land and be spirited away to a temporary hiding place.

Although his Brussels associates confirm the story of his accidental drop of 5,000 feet into the English channel, it was learned that the wires have been buzzing with secret calls between Brussels, Paris, and London, most of the day. It also was reported, unofficially, that a warrant for his arrest was awaiting the financial wizard upon his arrival in Brussels. He had been reputed the world's third richest man, but his wealth had shrunk greatly.

Upon reports of Capt. Loewenstein's death, the Brussels stock exchange became hysterical, the Loewenstein stocks tottering 40 to 50 per cent below yesterday's quotations. This was a factor leading acquaintances to consider the possibility that Capt. Loewenstein would be "resurrected" within a few days.

Companions Are Grilled.

Despite determined grilling from the French authorities, the Belgian financier's secretary, two stenographers, and valet, all of whom accompanied him, gave only the barest details. They said Capt. Loewenstein went to the washroom and failed to return.

The secretary said he was worried after ten minutes had passed, and went to locate his employer. He found Capt. Loewenstein missing and the door opposite that of the washroom open, showing the captain had tumbled out. The pilot circled the spot, then landed at Braine, in France, but continued to St. Ingelvert, where police were notified.

After studying the testimony of aviation experts, who scoffed at the idea that the banker could open the door against the terrific air pressure, the police detained the aids for further investigation.

Plane's Doorway Splintered.

CHOYDON, Eng., July 5.—(AP)—The big airplane from which Capt. Alfred Loewenstein fell while flying 4,000 feet above the English channel last night was examined here by officials of the Croydon airfield after Pilot Drew had flown it back from France.

The examination gave no real clue as to the cause of the tragedy. The woodwork holding the lock of the door through which the financier plunged was found to have been splintered. One piece of wood was almost broken away from the main upright of the door frame, but the door itself still opened and closed easily.

WOMEN BATTLE IN VAIN AGAINST WATER METERS

The spirit of Paul Revere, in feminine attire and without lantern or horse, but with no less militaristic fervor, aroused the housewives in the 5000 block in West Congress street yesterday, and temporarily put to rout the enemy. Instead of the British there hove into sight ten laborers intent upon installing water meters in the eight apartment houses in that block.

The first attack centered upon the home of Mrs. Ruth Langman, 5051 West Congress street, and the enemy was repulsed in the battle of words. Intent upon gaining their objective the laborers formed their lines in the street. The alarm was given and a dozen feminine neighbors came to the aid of Mrs. Langman. The ultimatum of the laborers that they would enter with threats of shooting and turning loose their dogs.

With the arrival of a mediation body of four policemen the women lost the fight. For, through the police, the laborers announced that they would dig up lawns and install the meters there if not allowed to enter the basements. The last shot was effective, and the feminine army retreated.

Quiz Hays on Politics; Reply Is All Movies

As a politician, Will H. Hays is strictly an "ex," he insisted last night. The former chairman of the Republican national committee, who amassed a large campaign fund for his party by juggling oily Liberty bonds, was interviewed as he passed through Chicago on his way to Hollywood.

"How is Hoover's campaign fund coming along?" he was asked.

"My dear friend," the suave president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America rested a hand on the reporter's shoulder, "your story is about me going to California for the semi-annual conference of the film industry."

He Talks of "Sound."

"Now you ask me, 'How's new in pictures?' and I'll answer right back, 'Sound.' This is my first interview on the subject. All the newspapers have been trying to get it."

"Excuse me, Mr. Hays," a newspaper man interrupted, "but do you know whether the Sinclair scandal is scaring away large donations to the Republican party this year?"

"Now, really, fellows," the former postmaster general smiled earnestly, "I'd like to help you boys out. I like you newspaper men, and if I weren't a lawyer I'd be a reporter myself. But I'm not in politics any more and am out of touch with what's happening."

Again It's the Movies.

"You ask me, 'How extensive will the movie-tone be used in the future?' and I'll answer, 'Wherever it aids the dramatics of the picture. Like the boom when a shot is fired and the purr of the motor when an airplane approaches.' There's your story."

"Can the talking pictures be used effectively in the presidential campaign?" he was asked.

"On politics," he replied, "you can say that 'When Will H. Hays, on his way to California on moving picture business, was interviewed last night, he declined to discuss politics.' I really don't know anything about politics. But I have a message to the public on the future of the moving picture industry."

Let's Talk About Movies.

"Does that mean you're no longer in the councils of the Republican party?" an interviewer inquired.

"O, you wouldn't embarrass me like that," Mr. Hays returned his hand to the shoulder of his new acquaintance. "Let me tell you about things new talking pictures. Did you make a note of that question, 'What's new in the films, Mr. Hays?' 'Sound,' he replied promptly."

TAX WHITE WINGS FOR AUTO TO BE GIVEN WARD BOSS

Street sweepers and other city employees in the Third ward yesterday were "kicking in" to a fund which is to be used in purchasing a high priced automobile for A. C. Simms, the colored ward superintendent.

Mr. Simms, who is Mayor Thompson's America First man in the Third ward, admitted the collection was on. He said it was voluntary on the part of the city employees and his friends.

Street sweepers, many of whom work on an average of three days a week, also said the collection was voluntary, but grumbled when they heard that the money was being collected. "This is my first interview on the subject. All the newspapers have been trying to get it."

"Excuse me, Mr. Hays," a newspaper man interrupted, "but do you know whether the Sinclair scandal is scaring away large donations to the Republican party this year?"

"Now, really, fellows," the former postmaster general smiled earnestly, "I'd like to help you boys out. I like you newspaper men, and if I weren't a lawyer I'd be a reporter myself. But I'm not in politics any more and am out of touch with what's happening."

Youth of 17, Scolded by His Father, Kills Self

Supposedly afraid of a scolding from his stepfather, Albert Sagik, 17 years old, shot himself through his forehead with a revolver at his home at 1423 Portland avenue, Chicago Heights last night. He was found dead by his half brother, Joseph Dydra, 12 years old. Sagik returned home early yesterday morning intoxicated after attending a Fourth of July celebration. His stepfather, Frank Dydra, scolded him and told him that he would talk to him further when he returned home from work that evening.

Jack Munroe, Who Stood 4 Rounds with Jeffries, Dies

MONTREAL, Que., July 5.—(AP)—Jack Munroe, prospector, miner, and soldier, but best known as the man who stood up to Jim Jeffries for four rounds when the latter was champion of the world, is dead. His body was found in his cabin near Royon, Ont., by two men who were attracted to the place by the barking of his dog. He evidently had been dead for days. Munroe was one of the little band of survivors of the original "Princess Pat" regiment.

and that Capt. Loewenstein's collar and tie were found in the machine after his disappearance.

No news as to the finding of the body had been received in England late tonight. Coast guards and light house keepers all along the channel coast have been instructed to patrol the beaches, and fishing boats are dragging the channel with nets.

Doubt Accident Theory

PARIS, July 5.—(U.P.)—A coroner familiar with the type of machine which Capt. Loewenstein used for his frequent voyages and from which he fell to his death in the English channel are convinced that no one could have opened the outside door in a moment of inadvertence, such as is suggested. "When a plane is flying," one said today, "it takes more than an ordinary push to open the door. Moreover, Loewenstein was perfectly familiar with his plane. Only a drunk man could have been so distraught as to continue to push open the outside door against the air resistance."

Coroner's Jury Says "Suicide"

PARIS, July 5.—(U.P.)—A coroner's board here concluded that Capt. Loewenstein had committed suicide but no formal announcement was made. The decision is being communicated to Brussels and London on the belief that the evidence clearly shows the financier's death was not due to an accident.

Widow Denies Suicide

BRUSSELS, July 5.—(U.P.)—When Mrs. Alfred Loewenstein returned from Calais, where she questioned the occupants of the airplane from which her husband met his death, she said: "It is stupid to say Capt. Loewenstein committed suicide. He was an energetic, cheerful man and had no reason to desire death. I know the airplane well and it is easy to mistake the door of the retiring room for the outside door."

DISASTER IN STOCKS

BY ANN SOMERS HOUSE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRUSSELS, Belgium, July 5.—Following a disastrous day on the stock exchange, which brought ruin to dozens of speculators, rumors that Capt. Alfred Loewenstein's "death" was only a hoax are gaining impetus. Associates continue to vouch for the truth of the story.

The stock exchange went into hysterics this morning. Loewenstein's stocks being quoted at 40 to 50 per cent below yesterday, Capt. Loewenstein's financial situation had been strained since the recent fight with the Bank of Brussels, which had restrained him from buying all of its shares he wanted.

A few days ago he placarded walls in Brussels with posters saying that the enterprises of his great enemy in Brussels, the American financier, Danie Heineman, only netted the shareholders 2 per cent, while his own brought 5 per cent.

Denies Hoax Story

Rumors of the hoax were vigorously denied by Count Eugene de Gruene, a close friend of Capt. Loewenstein, who also denied the suicide theory.

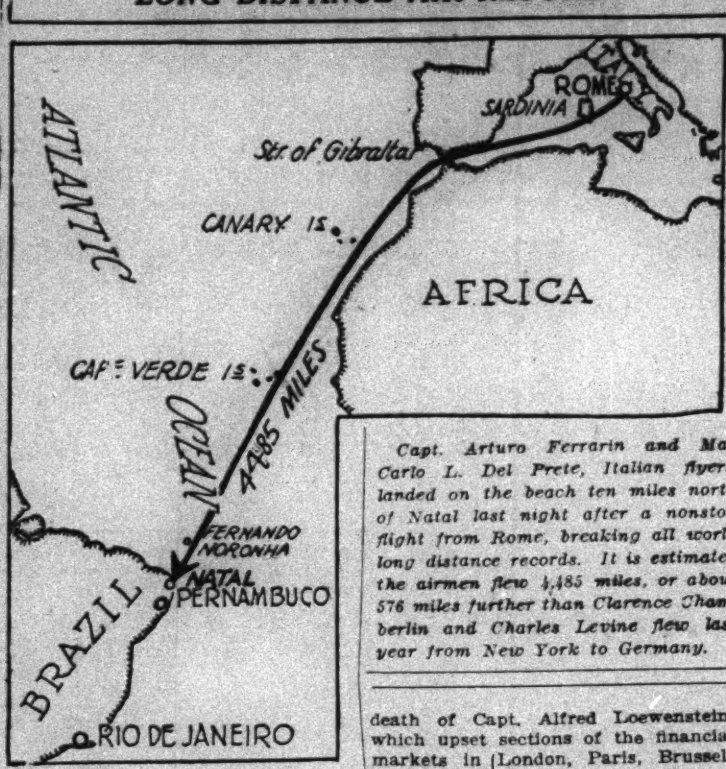

"Capt. Loewenstein had difficulties, yes, but was a great fighter," Count de Gruene said. "His loved difficulties so much he almost sought them. I do not think his fortune or enterprises will be affected in the long run by his death. In fact, clever financiers will pick up shares at the lowest point and cash in royally."

Before the war Capt. Loewenstein was a Brussels banker, but made tremendous profits during the war and the inflation period. When the inflation shattered the Belgian budget he proposed that the government stabilize the franc with his funds.

When the offer was refused he began a project to organize a world electricity company, buying blocks of shares in electricity companies and

LONG DISTANCE AIR RECORD

Capt. Arturo Ferrarin and Maj. Carlo L. Del Prete, Italian flyers, landed on the beach ten miles north of Natal last night after a nonstop flight from Rome, breaking all world long distance records. It is estimated the flyers flew 4,485 miles, or about 576 miles further than Clarence Chamberlin and Charles Levine flew last year from New York to Germany.

death of Capt. Alfred Loewenstein, which upset sections of the financial markets in London, Paris, Brussels and Berlin, caused not the slightest flurry in Wall Street.

Officers of the J. Henry Schroder Banking corporation, the bankers here for the Loewenstein enterprises, said the financier had not been pinched for funds and that the final settlement of his estate would show a personal fortune running far up into the millions of dollars.

When Capt. Loewenstein was in New York several months ago arrangements were made with his bankers for the flotation of a $25,000,000 bond issue of the International Holding and Investment company, one of his chief interests. This issue has not been brought out, but this has been due solely to the rise in money rates and the sluggish tone in the money market.

When the unfavorable turn came in the market, Capt. Loewenstein told his bankers to hold the issue back until conditions were favorable.

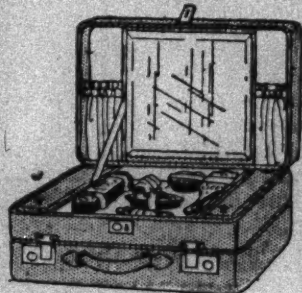

Capt. Loewenstein had bank loans in this country which fluctuated from day to day and usually ranged from $1,000,000 or so up to $4,000,000, but this was declared to represent ordinary business transactions which would not cause the financier any embarrassment.

Italy Ecstic by Flight

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] ROME, July 5.—News of the arrival of Capt. Arturo Ferrarin and Maj. Carlo P. del Prete in Brazil caused the greatest excitement and enthusiasm here. The newspapers issued special editions chronicling the progress of the flight.

Premier Mussolini was conferring with a committee of cooperative societies when informed of their arrival. Interrupting the conference, Il Duce said: "While we are speaking of our activity in the field of labor, Capt. Ferrarin and Maj. del Prete are conquering a new triumph for Italy by crossing the Atlantic to Brazil in a superb manner."

The aviators will receive the De Pinedo prize of $25,250.

RECEIVER FOR CORAL GABLES PROJECT ASKED

Claim Florida Concern Is Without Funds.

Miami, Fla., July 5.—[Special.]—The Coral Gables corporation, developer of the city of Coral Gables, with a population of 11,000, was named as receiver in an involuntary petition for bankruptcy filed today by three creditors with claims aggregating more than $4,000. Appointment of a receiver is asked. A hearing is scheduled for Tuesday before Judge Lake Jones in federal district court at Jacksonville.

The three companies bringing the petition, through their Miami attorneys, are Annin & Co. of New York, Walter & Sponder company of Chicago, which filed a claim of $3,400; Annin & Co. New York, $200, and the Coral Gables company of Boston, $250. The corporation committed acts of bankruptcy, the petitioners alleged, in permitting on May 23 seven judgments to be granted to creditors whose claims amounted to $12,960.

Perils Rescue Plans.
The bankruptcy action marks a setback in the long fight by corporation officials and numerous creditors to rescue the organization and proceed without a receiver.

In January, 1923, George E. Merrick, corporation president, claimed the corporation, originally chartered as a $10 million dollar concern, had been able to reduce its indebtedness from $400,000 to $200,000 and that plans for refinancing were being considered by a syndicate made up by Wall Street, western, and southern bankers. This plan called for twenty million dollars, involving twelve million in first mortgage bonds; ten million in second mortgage bonds and the balance in preferred stock at 6 percent.

On April 14, Mr. Merrick said this plan had fallen through and that control of the corporation had been turned over to a group of New York and New Orleans bankers and a Miami creditors' committee.

No Available Funds.
Samuel D. Eldredge of Eldredge & Co. New York, and Lynn H. Dinkins, president of the Interstate Trust and Banking company of New Orleans, were named head of the new management. Mr. Merrick and his associates, tendered their resignations. The new management announced that the corporation was without available funds and asked creditors to reduce their claims.

Approximately $5,000,000 was to have been made available if the 11,000 or more creditors had accepted the refinancing plans. Several meetings were held after which officials refused to state what progress had been made. If the membership is granted, it is expected, this will force a suspension of activities.

Youth Is Fined on Charge of Robbing Church Poor Box

Joseph Kirby, 13, of 1222 West 71st place was fined $50 yesterday in Judge Philip J. Finnegan's court for robbing the poor box in St. Patrick's Catholic church. Joseph said he went into the church to pray, but Patrick Brennan, the sexton, testified he caught him at the poor box.

STORM DAMAGE IN INDIANA PUT AT $2,000,000

Indianapolis, Ind., July 5.—(AP)—Damage estimated at more than $2,000,000 was caused by the wind and electrical storm which swept across central Indiana last night. James R. Moore, editor of the Hoosier Farmer, a publication of the Indiana State Farm Bureau federation, was authorized for the damage estimate. He said crop damage would total $1,000,000, while orchards, shade trees, and timber suffered a $1,000,000 loss.

The storm swept across the state from west to east while thousands were enjoying fireworks displays at parks. The heavy rain marooned thousands of automobiles in flooded streets and roads. The wind blew down many trees, some of which crashed against damaged residences; blew down telephone and power lines and caused damage to small buildings.

Several localities reported injured persons. Railroad and traction service from Indianapolis to points east, west, and north was disrupted and bridges were washed out.

Woman, 60, Is Fined for Picking Flowers on Graves

Mrs. Bridgetta L. McGinnis, 60 years old, 4444 Dover street, was fined $2 and costs yesterday by Judge Allegretti for picking flowers from the graves at Graceland cemetery. She asserted that she had picked nothing but a few mushrooms, which she wrapped in a handkerchief, but the judge preferred to believe the story of a watchman who caught her arrest. Mrs. McGinnis owns the flat building in which she lives.

Trick Way Into Apartment, Lock Up Woman, Get $370

Mrs. Rose Bass, 1140 Morse avenue, admitted two men to her apartment yesterday to receive a package which they said they had. The men then shut her in the bathroom while they stole $70 and two rings valued at $300.

Will Cost $3,000,000

Ground was broken yesterday for the new Austin Senior High school which will occupy a square bounded by West End avenue, Pine avenue, Long avenue, and Fulton street. More than 500 students and the Austin High school band took part in the ceremony. F. A. Bentley, chairman of the building and grounds committee of the Austin parent-teachers' association, turned the first spadeful of dirt. When completed next year the new structure will cost over $3,000,000.

DEMOCRATS MAY NAME MRS. ROSS VICE CHAIRMAN

New York, July 5.—(AP)—The New York Herald-Tribune tomorrow will say that it was indicated at Smith headquarters that Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming, has been chosen by the Smith campaign organization for vice chairman of the Democratic national committee.

The choice of the New York managers must be officially ratified by the members of the national committee at their meeting here Wednesday. But there is little doubt, however, that the committee members will approve the suggestions of the campaign directors.

RAIN OF ROSES TO GREET AMELIA AT NEW YORK GATES

Planes Will Fly Out from Paterson, N. J.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
New York, July 5.—[Special.]—The usual lower Broadway parade and city hall reception await Miss Amelia Earhart, Wilmer Stultz, and Lou Gordon, the Friendship trans-Atlantic flyers, who are aboard the steamship President Roosevelt, due at quarantine tonight.

The first greeting will be in the form of roses and congratulations sent by air.

Two planes will fly out from Paterson, N. J., one to drop a bouquet of roses to Miss Earhart from the Women's City club, the other to drop a message of congratulation to Stultz, the pilot of the Friendship on its flight to England.

Four Day Fête Here.
With the prospect of strenuous days and nights in New York and Boston ahead, Miss Earhart also faces a reception in Chicago extending over four days. Miss Earhart is a graduate of the Hyde Park high school there.

The flyers are expected to reach Chicago either by airplane or Pennsylvania railroad on Thursday, July 19. Mayor Thompson will greet them at the city hall following a parade to include the Chicago police and fire department bands.

That night, the mayor and city council, together with Hyde Park organizations, will give a dinner at the Shoreland hotel. The next day the Hyde Park High school will greet Miss Earhart and sing a song, "Amelia," written by Mrs. Jessie Barnes, a classmate. The Jackson Park Hotel Men's association will give a breakfast to the flyers.

Will See Races.
Other festivities include attendance at horse races, as guests of Col. Matt Winn and Stuyvesant Peabody, a reception of the Illinois Turf association, a reception by the mayor and Hyde Park alumni at Trilium ballroom, and a Women's City club reception.

A. J. Lichtern Seriously Ill Following Stroke

Adolph J. Lichtern, wealthy operator on the Chicago Board of Trade and head of the La Salle street brokerage house bearing his name, was reported critically ill last night in his apartment at the Drake hotel. He is suffering from cerebral hemorrhage following an attack of paralysis two weeks ago. Mr. Lichtern is said to have made a fortune in a corner on wheat in 1911.

11 CONDEMNED TO DIE IN RUSSIAN TRIAL FOR SABOTAGE IN MINES

MOSCOW, July 5.—(AP)—Eleven sentences of death were handed down tonight by the court which has been hearing the cases of 80 Russians and three Germans charged with sabotage in the Donets coal mines. Six of the eleven, however, were recommended for commutation.

The Germans were freed, two by acquittal and one on parole. Of the other Russians, a few were paroled, but most of them were sentenced to various terms of imprisonment. The trial lasted many weeks and the court deliberated 48 hours on its verdict.

For two days the court was besieged by crowds awaiting the verdict, and tonight the throng was so great that extra troops were called to control it.

Two of the most conspicuous defendants, ranking among Russia's greatest engineers, were among those sentenced to prison. M. Rabinovitch was given six years, and M. Kusma three years.

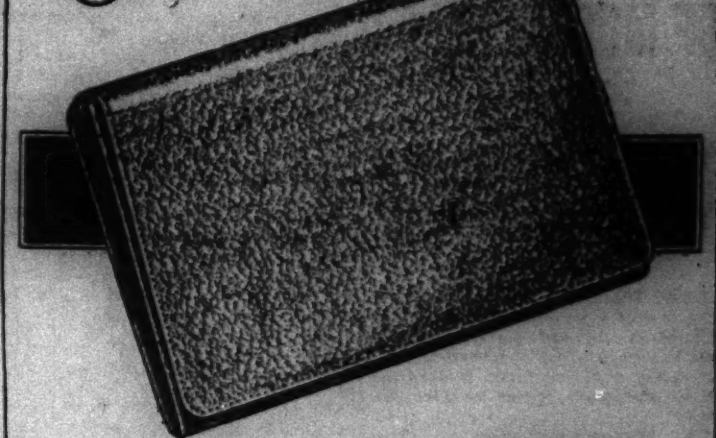

Technical skill, which may be useful to the soviet state in the future, was the saving factor in the case of the six men sentenced to death but recommended for clemency. These men were Beresovsky, Matoff, Kasarinnoff, Boyarchinnoff, Shadun, and Brantakovsky. The five for whom there is no hope under the verdict are Budney, Krishanovsky, Gorietaky, Yusevich, and Boyarchinnoff.

HOLD DRY AGENT; DRIVING WHILE DRUNK IS CHARGE

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 5.—[Special.]—Charged with driving while intoxicated, Oscar C. Rummel, a federal prohibition agent, is out on $500 bond to appear for trial in five days. Rummel was arrested here following an accident yesterday when he drove his car across a ditch and into a telephone pole. With him was Carl Larson, of the border patrol. Rummel, working under the Upper Peninsula group chief, Timothy Hurley, was active in "mopping" up Sault Ste. Marie and will be a witness in several government bootlegging cases when federal court opens here next week.

FIND TERRORISTS' BONDSMAN IS KIN OF MORRIS ELLER

Prosecutors See New Proof of Helps for Gangs

Israel Warshawsky, automobile accessory dealer, who provided bonds for defendants indicted by the special grand jury as political terrorists, is a son-in-law of Morris Eller, boss of the Bloody 20th ward, it was revealed yesterday.

The Warshawsky shop at South State street and Archer avenue, valued at $300,000, has been set up as bail for indicted gangsters. With the information that Warshawsky, who lives at 777 Michigan avenue, Wilmette, was married to one of Boss Eller's daughters, the prosecutors claimed they were given a further proof that "the Eller organization has put all its resources at the call of the defense and is actively engaged on behalf of the accused sluggers, kidnapers, and ballot thieves."

Stage Is Given 12 Warrants.

Armed with warrants for the arrest of twelve men sought for election crimes, Capt. John Stages, chief investigator for the special grand jury, and his staff of assistants last night began a search for those named.

Authority for Capt. Stages to carry arms against the gangsters who are sought was given him yesterday by Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court.

Upon the motion of David D. Stages, acting chief prosecutor for the special grand jury in the absence of Prosecutor Frank J. Loesch, Judge Olson named Capt. Stages a special officer of the court, and intrusted the warrants to him for service. This gave him full authority, equal to that of the police or the sheriff.

Names Are Kept Secret.

Prosecutor Stages went before the chief justice and informed him that of the forty persons indicted by the special grand jury, some were still at large and that the police department had failed to apprehend them.

"Some of these defendants are known to Capt. Stages, who is fearless and able, and therefore I beg the court to make him a special officer of the court, empowering him to serve these warrants."

"We also desire that the warrants be approved, so that the men named in them may not be apprised of their impending arrest."

Judge Olson said he would make the warrants issue to the police and the sheriff as well as to Capt. Stages.

Bailiff Bernard W. Snow of the Municipal court and Sheriff Charles E. Graydon, both members of the Thompson-Crowe-Galpin-Killam organization, had returned to the court. Stages gave him power to make arrests for the special grand jury.

Three of Those Sought.

Three of the warrants, it was learned, name Harry Hochstein, Eller chieftain indicted for the murder of Octavius C. Granada, colored primary opponent of Morris Eller, boss of the bloody 20th ward; Sam "Red" Bardin, a Municipal bailiff, and Joe Breclav, public school janitor accused of assault to kill against election workers.

Sam Pellar, another 20th ward gangster sought for kidnaping and slugging, escaped arrest yesterday when, while detectives led by Capt. William Schoemaker of the detective bureau waited at one entrance of the Ashland block, 155 North Clark street, Pellar ran out the other. He had been seen standing in the Oakes cigar store, which has an entrance on the building lobby as well as the street.

The detectives were near by Pellar as they moved to arrest him and the gangster fled.

As the detectives moved to the Clark street entrance of the building to seize Pellar on his way out, but Pellar ran to the Randolph street door and disappeared.

Question Road Issue Victory.

Frauds, apparent when ballot boxes containing votes cast in the June judicial election, were opened yesterday by County Judge Edmund H. Jarecki, caused Charles Center Case, special state's attorney appointed by the

Back Your Vote with Cash, Plea in Violence Inquiry

Back up your vote with cash. This is the appeal made to the half million citizens who unseated the police-combine alliance last April by James E. Forgan Jr., chairman of the committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce which is raising funds for the special inquiry into the crimes of politics.

Give what you can, Mr. Forgan says.

If only one out of every ten voters who marked their ballots for Judge John A. Swanson slipped a one dollar bill into an envelope and mailed it to the association the fund would be overabundant.

Fund Is Now $120,000.

The fund totaled $120,000 at the close of business yesterday, with a one day's collection of $4,408. The balance of $20,000 which will complete the cost of the fraud inquiry should be raised quickly, but a more united support from the citizenry is needed at this time, Mr. Forgan said.

So back up your vote with a dollar, or five dollars, or ten or twenty or a thousand, but DO BACK IT UP, urges Mr. Forgan.

Carl R. Latham, who when president of the Chicago Bar association, set in motion the legal maneuvers which have already resulted in indictments against 45 of the gangsters who have resorted to kidnaping and violence in carrying elections, pointed out that with many hundreds of citizens from all walks of life, contributing to the fund, it has demonstrated that the public wants its house cleaned.

Asses to Prosecution.

"Clever defense lawyers, who in the past have found juries receptive to insinuations that private organizations have financed prosecutions against their clients, will have a tough time convincing a jury that this fund, made up of hundreds of separate contributions, is anything but a distinct asset to the prosecution," Mr. Latham said.

"We think that any of the 46,592 voters who marked for Judge Swanson will be glad to have further share of stock, as it were, in the new order of our community. Every one of them would give a dollar, I am sure, but many of them will give more."

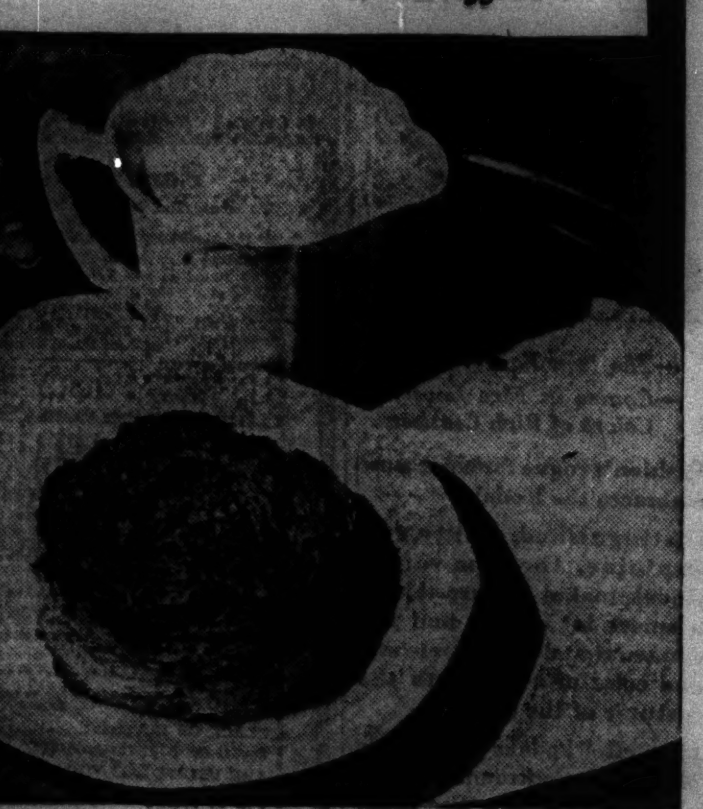

County court, to predict that the south park bond issues, shown approved on the official canvass, may be proved to have been defeated.

Three ballot boxes from precincts in the First ward and one in the 20th ward were opened, and, according to Case, the ballots cast on the bond issues in many instances showed evidence of having been marked by the same person. Handwriting experts verified this belief. In one precinct 438 votes were reported cast for the bond issues, but Case asserted only 125 of the ballots appeared to have been honestly cast.

EASY TO BOMB Foe in Chicago, Survey Shows

A Chicagoan desiring to plant a bomb beneath an enemy's front porch or toss it into the shop of a business rival is confronted with no difficulty in procuring his bomb, it was declared yesterday in a report of the Illinois Association of Criminal Justice, 300 West Adams street. The report is the sixth chapter of a survey of Chicago crime conditions by the association.

Use of the bomb in gang wars, politics, black hand plots, labor feuds, and general racketeering by so-called "merchants' associations" has grown steadily during the last two years, according to Arthur W. Lashly, who made the report public.

"215 Murders; No Convictions."

During the last four years, the report says, Chicago's numberless beer feuds, the battle grounds of which have been largely on the south and west sides of the city, have led to 215 murders. And it declares that in not a single one of the murders have the players been run down and brought to justice.

Details of the warfares of the Klondike O'Donnell, the Genna, and the Torrio-Capone gangs of the west side, and of the Dean O'Banion, Hymie Weiss and Drusus choose of the north side, with all their intricacies, are given in the report.

Political Alliance Charged.

"Few Chicagoans realize the powerful nature of criminal gang organization, the extent of the gang's political alliances, or the enormous profits from beer and booze distribution," the report says. "A regular army of highly paid minor chieftains is maintained by the beer lords."

Many of the bombing crews are known to police, it is declared in the report, which adds that the bombers are so firmly entrenched politically that police are practically powerless to combat them.

ELLER IS MADE ACTING-CHIEF OF CRIMINAL COURT

Judge Emanuel Eller, who, with his father, Morris Eller, is credited with directing the politics of the "bloody Twentieth" ward, and whose political activities have figured in the inquiry into alleged fraud at the recent primary by the special grand jury, yesterday became acting chief justice of the Criminal courts in the absence of Chief Justice William V. Brothers. Judge Brothers' physician ordered that he take a vacation because of ill health.

To Keep Skin Radiantly Fresh

Cleanse it of powder and rouge this special way, embodying palm and olive oils

MAKE-UP enhances beauty. It does not create beauty. Beneath the artificial touch of rouge, the smoothly dusted powder, must lie a naturally lovely skin. To keep that skin lovely, always remove make-up according to this universally recommended rule.

Every night, before going to bed, massage your face and throat with a creamy lather of Palmolive Soap. Use your two hands. The palm and olive oils, delicately blended in the rich lather, act as a lubricant to the fine texture of the skin. They reach the deep skin, that important and constantly renewed secondary layer. They penetrate tiny pores that are otherwise apt to clog with dust, make-up, oil secretions. They prevent blackheads and skin afflictions.

After the soap massage, cleanse with warm water graduated to cold. Dry with a soft towel, patting, not rubbing. Then (and then only) are you ready for make-up.

Who would not protect a priceless complexion thus easily, when Palmolive Soap is obtainable only 10c a cake everywhere? The Palmolive-Test Co., Chicago, Ill.

U. S. AUTOS JAM ROAD TO ONTARIO AND "FREEDOM"

All Records Broken for Tourist Permits.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)
NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 5.—The "northwest passage" motor route out from the Atlantic seaboard to Detroit gradually is meeting the same fate as national "through" highways in the United States—that of being overcrowded to a point of unmanageability. This route is a double paved way between Buffalo and Detroit, through the province of Ontario. One route skirts the north shore of Lake Erie and the other proceeds directly through London, Paris and Hamilton.

Ontario officials announced yesterday that all records for permits to travel had been broken at Detroit, Buffalo, and Niagara Falls, and the travel during the holiday period was reported as the peak in history. Through traffic from the falls to Windsor normally figures on seven hours for the short cut. With Dominion day, Fourth of July, and a week-end coming in a row, permits to twenty-four hours was the time that prevailed this year. And this put the route back in the class with the car-monoxide channels which accommodate east and west touring travel south of Lake Erie.

100,000 Yanks in Ontario on 4th.—Checking up today, the Ontario officials estimated that well over 100,000 loyal Americans spent the anniversary day of the independence of the United States on Ontario soil, lawfully doing that which it is unlawful to do in Canada and a half or a hundred miles away.

It is the observation of dominion officials that the great majority of visiting Americans are temperate, even to complete abstemiousness, but they report there seems to be a tendency among the citizens of the United States to crave the sensation of unimpaired action in regard to appetite, whether they exercise it or not.

A commentary on the four day period is presented by the police records, which show no arrests of Americans in Ontario for overindulgence. Acquisition of beer, wine or spirits is not such an easy matter outside the tourist districts of Windsor and Niagara, however. The commodities are pressed, lawfully, and the quality is of the best. To obtain them it is necessary to procure a permit, which is freely given, and then buy one's supply.

In such a situation, strange as it may seem, the effort is too much for a majority of visitors. They get their kick out of the feeling that the stock available when and if they want it. Still, a sufficient number avail it, all of the privileges. The government reports excise tax revenues of over $25,000,000 on liquor handled.

May Expand Motor Facilities.—The government now is seriously considering the expansion of its motor facilities to meet the demands of the golden stream of tourists. At the Windsor end of Ontario highways the widening of the roadway has already been undertaken. Toronto is taking steps to build a number of radial highways from that center, the first to be a 135 foot boulevard to serve through interprovincial traffic in the region of this center. Immediate steps are contemplated for widening out the Ontario highway from the falls to Hamilton.

On the American side, near the falls, Buffalo interests have developed the arteries to the Canadian gateway. The provincial and dominion officials feel that the first step in providing paved highway facilities for American travelers has paid handsomely, and the recognized financial and business ability of Canadian leaders is now being applied to the question of expansion. The Canadian leaders are quite willing that it be known that when a business proposition confronts them they are inclined not to fool about it. Some financing bills already are prepared, it is said, for the next parliamentary session.

Highways Same as in Illinois.—The highways of Ontario are about the same as those in Illinois and Cook county—not in miles of concrete slab, but in width of pavement and type of construction. The existing pavements here have the virtue of continuity. Because of comparatively few cities along the routes, the traffic moves faster, ordinarily, than in Illinois. Ontario's population is sparse or almost lacking in comparison to that of Illinois or the Chicago area. Yet, Ontario is equipped with the same type of motor facilities as that seen in mileage ratio to motor population probably far in excess of the great central metropolitan area in the progressive United States.

The Ontario cutoff will serve its purpose this season, but the jump that the province has attained by its initial step in continuous paved roads, plus its offering in the way of an occasional legal drink, will not be permitted to fall apart. Millions of American dollars a year in exchange for hundreds of thousands of dollars spent for roads is a proposition that brings even the Canadian out of complacency and lethargy.

TELLER'S $100,000 SHORTAGE IS LAID TO RACKETEERS

Milwaukee, Wis., July 5.—(AP)—Capture of "racketeers," whose threats of exposure and death are thought to have caused Erwin F. Voels, 32, teller of the National Bank of Commerce, to embezzle more than $100,000 over a period of two years, is expected tonight by federal authorities.

The operatives are said to be certain of the identity of the alleged blackmailers. A federal warrant, based on defalcation to the amount of $100,000 was issued late today against Voels, who had been arrested July 3 and held incommunicado when the shortage was revealed. He waived preliminary hearing and is in jail.

Voels, the father of two children, willingly confessed guilt of the theft. His embezzlement began when he lost $300 of his own money two years ago in the stock market, played on the advice of one of the alleged blackmailers. It was brought out.

Then there were frequent demands, accompanied by threats of exposure and death.

Many deposit slips were found in Voels' desk in the bank for which depositors had not been fully credited. Telegraph receipts of more than $38,000 which had been sent by wire out of the city by Voels also were found in the hiding place.

Bank officials said the losses were covered by insurance.

Michigan Democrats to Put Full Slate in Field

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—[Special].—Fifty Democratic county chairmen of the lower peninsula drafted John W. Bailey, Battle Creek, as a candidate for United States senator and William A. Comstock, Detroit, for governor, at a meeting here today. It was decided that a full slate would be put into the November election in each county.

BRITAIN PLANS MERGER OF ALL COMMUNICATIONS

LONDON, July 5.—(AP)—A decision to recommend combination of all cable and wireless communications of the British empire has been reached by the conference on empire communications. The plan needs approval by the cabinet and parliament. The scheme contemplates a single corporation to operate all wire and radio traffic. The government would be represented on the board and would hold the balance of power between the cable and wireless interests. The West Indies cable and wireless system is not likely to be included. The corporation would embrace the Eastern Telegraph company and its associates, all the Marconi associated companies, the Pacific cable board, British beam stations, communication with the dominions, and the British trans-Atlantic cables.

HICKMAN MUST HANG, CALIFORNIA HIGH COURT SAYS

Kidnap's Attorney Will File U. S. Appeal.

San Francisco, Cal., July 5.—(AP)—The California Supreme court today unanimously upheld the constitutionality of the law under which William Edward Hickman was tried and sentenced to hang for the murder of 12-year-old Marian Parker of Los Angeles.

The decision sustained the trial court in Los Angeles, which after a jury trial found Hickman sane when he committed the murder and sentenced him to death. The opinion held that in pleading "not guilty by reason of insanity," under a recently enacted provision of the state penal code, Hickman had not been denied his rights as a defendant under either the state or federal constitution, as his appeal petition alleged, and that hence his sentence must stand.

Immediately after the Supreme court's ruling Hickman's attorney, Jerome Walsh, announced in Kansas City that the case would be appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Not Compelled to Plead.
The appeal would be taken under the fourteenth amendment of the federal constitution, which guarantees a trial by "due process of law" and "equal protection" to all defendants. The state Supreme court today ruled that the fourteenth amendment was not violated in this case, as no defendant is compelled to plead "not guilty by reason of insanity." In so pleading, the court held, the accused admits commission of the acts alleged, but denies responsibility for them.

The decision held that a person charged with a crime is presumed to be sane until the contrary is established by a preponderance of evidence and that the "present statute does not take away the defense of insanity, and the procedure followed in no wise changed or affected the rule respecting the burden which rests on the prosecution and on the defense in this case."

Made Two Different Pleas.
In the Marian Parker murder case Hickman entered only the one plea. In the murder of Ivy Thomas, a drugist, with which Hickman was jointly accused with Wesley Hunt, 17, a former pal, Hickman pleaded "not guilty" and "not guilty by reason of insanity." He was convicted, found sane and sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin prison, where he has been in condemned row since his trials. He was sentenced to hang April 27, last, but execution was automatically postponed by his appeal.

The Supreme court in today's decision sent the case back to the Los Angeles Superior court, where Hickman will be resentenced. Under the law a period of thirty days must elapse before this is done.

Lithuania Makes Progress Aided by Returned Emigrants

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Special Series.)
KAUNAS, Lithuania, July 5.—In spite of the fact that they declare solemnly in the new constitution that Vilna is the capital of Lithuania and that Kovno is only the temporary seat of the government, the Lithuanians seem to have made up their mind that they are going to stay in Kovno for a while. Nowhere in the Baltic is building going on more actively than in this temporary capital, and it is the sort of building that is intended to last.

Within the last six years a new university has been created and new faculty buildings are going up all over the town. New ministries are springing up on every corner and they are fine, solidly built structures that will be capable of housing government clerks for hundreds of years. A splendid structure for the state bank has just been completed with a suite of apartments on the top floor for the residence of Dictator Waldemaras.

Returned Emigrants Aid.
In every sphere of reconstruction the Waldemaras government is working at top speed and very efficiently. Thanks to the advice of returned emigrants who had made good in America, Lithuania's finances are in excellent condition and she is able to carry out the most essential improvements out of income. She would like to hasten road and railroad building, but she doesn't want to pay a high rate of interest, and is willing to wait until the money market is more favorable.

Premier Waldemaras said he wanted about $20,000,000 more for these purposes and about $10,000,000 more to convert the existing debt on more favorable terms. Most of this could be borrowed at once, either in England or America, at 7 or 8 per cent, but Waldemaras is determined to pay no more than 5 per cent.

Building with Bonds.
Meantime much is being done in steady reconstruction out of income through a novel method of state finance, by which the contractors, chiefly English and German, agree to take state bonds extinguishable in ten years in payment. Many of the bridges destroyed in the war are being rebuilt.

on this plan and the new railroad from Mita to Shavil as well. This road will form a valuable outlet to the sea for a rich stretch of agricultural country.

Plans are being considered for a big hydroelectric undertaking on the Neiman which would supply the whole country with light and power, but they have not yet gone beyond the discussion stage. It is stated by engineers that a four mile canal would give a drop of 100 feet at a point close to Kovno without interfering in any way with the navigation of the river.

Road Question Pressing.
Of the bigger works, the road question is the most pressing. The present roads are very bad. In many places they are little more than dirt tracks, and in winter and spring many of them are impassable. Now that an effort is being made to develop agricultural export, the need of roads by which the peasants can bring their produce quickly and cheaply to market is universally recognized.

Arterial drainage is also badly needed. The former great landlords of Lithuania were bad farmers and paid little attention to this. Large areas of land are water-logged permanently and more is flooded periodically. This also is being proceeded with slowly out of income, but with adequate finance great savings could be effected.

Ground Broken for R.O.T.C. Building on N. U. Campus.

Ground was broken yesterday for the new $75,000 two-story brick building on the Evanston campus of Northwestern university which is to be used as a headquarters of the military unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. It will also be used to relieve the pressure of class rooms in the college of liberal arts. It is expected to be complete when the terms opens in the fall.

HIT BY STRAY BULLET, WOMAN DIES.
A stray bullet fired by Frank Tizio, 14, of 1422 Polk street, at target practice, last December, resulted yesterday in the death of Mrs. Carmela Ricci, 35, of 808 Loomis street who was shot in the back. Juvenile officers later took into custody, Frank Tizio, 14, 1422 Polk street, for firing the fatal bullet.

PLAINTIFF WINS TEST IN FIGHT ON TAX VALUATIONS

Harding's Plea Overruled—Appeal Is Planned.

The first court test of the validity of the 1927 realty assessments was sustained yesterday by Circuit Judge Ira Ryner. The judge overruled a demurrer of County Treasurer George F. Harding to a bill for an injunction brought by Frederick C. Aldrich, former president of the Chicago Stock Exchange.

Aldrich asked that the treasurer be restrained from collecting the plaintiff's taxes, contending that the tax bill is void in that it is based on an unfair assessment. Harding contended that the petition failed to set up ground for relief and, after the court overruled this contention, the treasurer's attorney, Hayden Bell, announced he will appeal on the demurrer rather than go to trial on the merits of the allegations. The injunction, therefore, will issue automatically.

One of Thirteen Cases.
Aldrich's case is one of thirteen bills brought by members of the Taxpayers' Committee on Uniform Assessments through Attorney Lester L. Falk. The pleadings aver that the 1927 assessments violate the constitution and statutes through lack of uniformity. The great bulk of Cook county real estate, it is alleged, is either underassessed or overassessed. "If the allegations of the bill are sustained," said Judge Ryner in handing down his opinion, "it will be a situation that has never been before the

RASKOB'S SON KILLED AS AUTO UPSETS ON ROAD

Wilmington, Del., June 5.—(Special)—William F. Raskob, second son of John J. Raskob, vice president of the Du Pont Powder company and chairman of the finance committee of General Motors, was killed today at Salem, Md.

He was driving from the home of his parents in Claymont to the summer home in Maryland. J. A. Long of Churchill, who was driving about three hundred yards behind him, suddenly saw a cloud of dust arise, and when he arrived at the spot, found the Raskob car overturned on the roadside and the young man dead in a field, his head against a stone. He was 29 years old and one of 13 children. He was a student at Yale.

PLAN WIRELESS PHONE SERVICE FOR U. S. CITIES

Beam-Operated System Perfected by Marconi.

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—A new system of wireless telegraph and telephone service will link up all the important cities of the United States probably within the year, according to a report in circulation in Wall Street today.

The new system, it is understood, will be the result of arrangements made between the Radio Corporation of America and Signor Marconi, which will give the corporation the rights to an invention now being perfected by Marconi. The new apparatus will operate up to a thousand circuits on one wave length.

Like Ordinary Switchboard.
The Radio corporation already has placed orders for the new equipment, it is said in banking circles. The sending and receiving sets are about the size of an ordinary telephone switchboard.

Two of the Radio corporation's officers, who returned on the De la France, recently spent some time conferring with Marconi. The men are David Sarnoff, vice president of the Radio corporation, and W. A. Winterbottom, traffic manager of the corporation.

Signor Marconi, it is declared, will visit this country next winter, and it is believed that the service between several American cities may then be started.

By Radio and A. T. and T.
The new wireless telegraph system will be operated by the Radio corporation. It is believed, while by special arrangement the new telephone service will be operated by the American Telephone and Telegraph corporation.

Thus the wireless telephone will not compete with the ordinary telephone service now in operation. The wireless telephone and telegraph, however, will be much cheaper and it will eliminate for all time the danger of interrupted communication through storms. The new wireless telephone and telegraph will be operated on the beam system, a process which has occupied the attention of Marconi for some time and which has already revolutionized wireless communication.

It is quite possible that the United States will be the first to use Marconi's new device.

DRUNKEN DRIVER FORCED TO GIVE UP HIS LICENSE

William Durkee, 546 North Dearborn street, was the first Chicagoan to be hit by a La Salle county ruling that persons caught driving automobiles while intoxicated must surrender their licenses. Durkee, arraigned yesterday in the police court at Ottawa, seat of La Salle county, paid a $50 fine, gave up his state and Chicago license plates, and then, because he had no license to drive, had to leave his car in a garage in the town. Durkee and W. Heinonen, also of 546 North Dearborn street, were charged with being intoxicated when arrested on the highway near Ottawa on Wednesday. They spent the night in jail. Heinonen, who was driving Durkee's car when they were arrested, was fined $100 and costs.

COMMONS TOLD WHY POLICE MAY NOT CHEW GUM

Might Clog Whistle, Says Sir William.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, July 5.—Laborites and Liberals are determined not to allow the appointment of Lord Byng of Vimy as chief commissioner of the metropolitan police to rest, and Sir William Joynton-Hicks, home secretary, was heckled again today in the house of commons.

Jack Hayes, Labor member, who was a former police sergeant, started the heckling. He wanted to know if Sir William prohibited policemen from chewing gum while on duty. The home secretary admitted that this was so, and said it was because he believed that gum chewing interfered with duty. Hayes then asked whether chewing gum by police covered chewing chocolate by the home secretary, who has a habit of thus refreshing himself in the house of commons.

Lady Astor Takes a Hand.
Lady Astor interjected, "It isn't much more difficult to answer a question properly with a mouthful of gum than a mouthful of chocolate."

"That is exactly why I have prohibited gum chewing," said Sir William. "And besides, I am informed that when blowing his whistle for assistance, a policeman might blow his gum into the whistle."

Bring Up Money Arrest.
The home secretary was then heckled about the report that he had decided not to prosecute the two policemen who had arrested Sir Leo Money and Miss Irene Savidge in Hyde Park, and replied that he had not made up his mind yet and would not until he received the report of the commission investigating the police action.

Then a new case was mentioned, that of Arthur Beagle, who declares that he was given the third degree in connection with a murder some time ago. The home secretary said he had looked into this and was satisfied that Beagle's charges were grossly inaccurate and untrue, but he agreed that this and other similar cases might be inquired into by the police tribunal. He declined, however, to prosecute Beagle for perjury.

TEST NEW FIRE ENGINE TODAY.
The first of ten new fire engines ordered by the Chicago fire department was delivered to the city yesterday and will be tested out on the Navy pier today. It was announced last yesterday by Fire Commissioner Albert B. Goodrich.

3,000 Involved in New York Street Department Graft

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—A new shakeup of officials and employees of the street cleaning department, involving 65 department officers and 3,000 employees, 1,000 more than were affected by the shakeup announced Tuesday, is planned by Commissioner Taylor, it was learned today. The new list of transfers, an outgrowth of the graft investigation being conducted by Commissioner of Accounts Higgins, will affect the Brooklyn section and bring the total number of officers assigned to new posts to 108. Forty-three in the Bronx and Manhattan have been shifted.

G. O. P. CHIEFS TO DRAFT WESTERN CAMPAIGN HERE

Anti-Saloon League Plans to Enter Fight.

(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)
Washington, D. C., July 5.—(Special.)—A western conference of Republican national committeemen and other outstanding leaders will be held in Chicago within the next few weeks to work out plans for the Hoover-Curtis campaign in the west.

Organization matters and the setup of Hoover leaders in Chicago and other strategic points throughout the west will be completed at this meeting. Announcement of this conference and the disclosure of other quarters that a few of the highest officials of the Anti-Saloon league will meet shortly in Washington to discuss plans for the league's participation in the presidential campaign marked the high lights of political developments here today. It is understood that a tour of four or five states in the country will be made shortly to work out separate campaign plans.

Hoover Delays Departure.
Among other developments of the day was the announcement that campaign organization matters will keep Secretary Hoover in Washington longer than he had planned.

Instead of leaving next Tuesday for the summer White House at Superior, Wis., to discuss his resignation with the President, Mr. Hoover will not depart until the latter part of next week. The notification ceremonies at Leland Stanford university will be between Aug. 7 and Aug. 11, probably on Aug. 10, Mr. Hoover's birthday.

The nominee personally will ask to be relieved as secretary of commerce, but will abide by Mr. Coolidge's decision.

McBride Will See Leaders.

F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the league and its chief spokesman at the Kansas City and Houston conventions, declined to outline the plans of his organization, beyond admitting that a statement might be given out after he has discussed matters with a few of the league leaders.

Mr. McBride's personal views as expressed today:
1. Most of the women dries probably will register their ballot for Hoover as a result of Gov. Smith's outspoken statement in favor of dry law modification.
2. About eighty per cent of the voters look upon prohibition as a settled issue and therefore will cast their votes along party lines or after due consideration of other issues.

Sees Larger Issues.

"I would think there are other issues which will be considered larger than the prohibition issue in this campaign," Mr. McBride said. "Prohibition may be the main issue in the minds of some people, but it will not be the big issue in the minds of the majority. I think more than three quarters of the drys look upon prohibition as a settled issue. They know Gov. Smith is running on a dry platform and do not believe he can accomplish anything for the wet, even if elected."

"Special stress will be laid throughout the campaign on electing dry congressmen."

Mr. McBride's views are somewhat different from those expressed Tuesday by Ernest Cherrington, educational director of the league, one of its ranking leaders. Mr. Cherrington's statement calling the friends of prohibition to stop Gov. Smith was sent out by the World League Against Alcoholism, of which he is general secretary.

None of the dry leaders has called on Chairman Work or upon Secretary Hoover, but some of the directors are expected to visit the Hoover headquarters within the next few days. Anti-Saloon league leaders believe Mr. Hoover will not answer Gov. Smith in his speech of acceptance and will deal only generally with the prohibition question at that time.

Wisconsin Is for Hoover, Governor Informs Coolidge

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)

Superior, Wis., July 5.—(Special.)—Wisconsin is not to be placed in the doubtful column in forecasts of results next November—it will go safely Republican, according to Gov. Fred H. Zimmerman, who is the guest of the President at Cedar Island lodge today. At the same time he admits that the Republican party will have to make a thorough campaign, stressing the waterway issue, and that Al Smith's wetness will win a good many votes in the state.

The governor is in the campaign himself—out on the stump already in the four cornered race for renomination. As to his own chances he is optimistic, but as to Hoover he says he is certain. He believes Senator La Follette will support the Republican candidate.

Blaine Talking Smith.
The governor himself has organized a Hoover-Zimmerman club. The Republican stalwarts, of course, will support Hoover. There remain the following that may be commanded by Senator Blaine who is reported as talking Smith and the Democrats. The governor points to the 1920 figures as showing the normal position of the two parties in the state. In this election the Republicans won by 350,000. Admitting Smith's appeal in the larger cities and some farmer discontent, he cannot see any such overturn as probable.

"All of Wisconsin should realize that a great opportunity has come to put a man in the presidency who will put through the St. Lawrence waterway," said the governor. "This will be the issue that will make Hoover's success in this state certain. He is a man who has done big things, a king among men in the best sense, and he will do this thing if it can be done. It would be the greatest thing that could happen to the state."

Would Be World Ports.
"Our ports would become world ports," he would help the farmers more than any legislation. Hoover has always stood for this waterway and understands the engineering and other features. Contrast this with Al Smith, who is against the St. Lawrence route.

Time Not Ripe for Third Party, Norris Says

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(Special.)—Declaring a third party not practicable under existing conditions, Senator George W. Norris (Rep., Neb.) has called upon Progressives of the country to work for the election of progressive candidates for congress on whatever ticket they are running. His views were outlined in a letter to Doremus Scudder of Claremont, Cal. The names of Shipstead of Minnesota, La Follette of Wisconsin, Wheeler of Montana, Howell of Nebraska, Johnson of California, Prusier of North Dakota, and Dill of Washington were listed as typical Progressives.

Mrs. Hoover Told Father, Ill in California, Is Better

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the Republican presidential nominee, talked tonight over long distance telephone with physicians in Placerville, Cal., where her father, C. D. Henry, is ill. It was announced that Mrs. Hoover was assured that her father was in no immediate danger and that his improvement, following his transference from a high to a lower altitude after a heart attack, had been rapid.

BIG TIM'S ESTATE IS NOT OVER $1,100, WIDOW TESTIFIES

Mrs. Florence Murphy, widow of Big Tim, took the witness stand yesterday before Edward S. Scheffer, assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner, and testified that the entire estate of her husband, who was assassinated on June 26, will not exceed $1,100. The slain labor leader and racketeer was a free spender and provided a comfortable home for his family during his lifetime, friends recalled.

The widow is the sole heir. Big Tim did not leave a will. A small girl lived with them but had never been legally adopted.

SMITH REVELS IN REMINISCENCES OF BOILER SHOP

Note on Politics, but He Talks on Earlier Days.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Picture on back page.)

New York, July 5.—(Special.)—Al Smith's reminiscences to us this evening about his wages as an unloader of boilers thirty-four years ago, and other things, are off on political questions.

After Independence day's long, hot season of oratory, he is feeling fine and in good humor. Very hoarse, but he apologizes with a nod that as he swings into his reception room at the Biltmore for the daily exchange of foot questions and slick answers with his writers.

"Howdy, everybody!" says he. "Litt'le bit hoarse, you see, from open air speaking."

Again he is in his shirt sleeves, with the abundant handkerchiefs for wiping up. For the weather still is pretty.

"Any callers today, governor?"

Two from the West.

"Judge Hayden," he replies, "of California—San Francisco—and former ambassador Hugh Wallace from the state of Washington."

"Did they discuss with you any new measure regarding the campaign that you can tell us about?"

"No, they just came in to say 'Hello, old pal, cheerio.'"

"Have you any conferences scheduled before you leave for Albany tonight?"

"No, nothing will be done around here this evening, except packing the bag and distributing the mail."

"And then I will be on the way."

"Are you packing your golf bag?"

"No" (wearily).

Now come the foot questions to lure him on.

"Do you consider any particular spot in the country a tough spot so far as the November results are concerned?"

"No, nothing."

Campaign Talk Taboo.

"I am NOT going to talk campaign here, and I want to have that understood. Nothing until the chairman of the national committee is elected and then he'll talk to you about the rough spots."

"Is Peter Gerry going to be national chairman?" (This is rich young Peter Gerry, United States senator from Rhode Island.)

"That is still unsettled—and anything that is not settled is unsettled."

He sits away from political questions and fall back on the old Boswellian device of the silly question to elicit the wise answer. Out of a clear sky this is popped at him and he smiles, for he loves to talk of his youth and his hard work.

"Is it true that you once had a session with a power house in Brooklyn?"

He beams reminiscently.

Al beams reminiscently, saying:

"It wasn't a power house. It was the Davidson Steam Pump works, at Keap street and Wrentham avenue, Brooklyn. I answered a want ad for a shipping clerk and when I arrived there I found that their idea of a shipping clerk was to unload boilers. I stayed there a whole winter—September, 1894, and part of 1895. In fact, that was the year that I went into office as commissioner of jurors—my first office. I really was a laborer at the pump works—unloading steel castings for boilers and engines."

"And the salary?"

"I don't remember the salary, but I do know that I did not need an armed guard to accompany me on pay day. I wasn't on the list of desirable holdups."

Details come trooping back to him across 34 years, and he adds, musingly:

"I took the old Roosevelt street ferry to work."

"Was that the foundation of the Smith fortune?"

"No, that cornerstone ain't been exactly laid yet—unless it is the political fortune."

The word "political" brings us back to our tedious knitting, and we ask:

"Shall you meet Senator Robinson before coming back to New York from Albany?"

"He is coming on for the meeting and I'll see him then."

"Do you know Senator Robinson personally?"

"Sure! I know him very well! He campaigned with me in 1920."

"I am going to Bear Mountain," he continues, "on Tuesday to visit and talk to the Boy Scouts. I haven't decided yet whether I will stay overnight at the Peekskill camp, but, anyhow, I will be in New York next Wednesday morning and ready for the meeting of the Democratic national committee in the afternoon."

SPLIT IS REPORTED IN SMITH'S FOLLOWING; TAMMANY MEN ANGRY

Albany, N. Y., July 5.—(Special.)—Coincident with Gov. Al Smith's return to Albany tonight from New York City came reports that one of his first tasks in his presidential campaign will be to play the rôle of peacemaker in his own camp. According to these reports, considerable dissension has developed between the strictly Tammany element of his adherents and the Proskauer-Van Namee-Moskowitz group. The governor, it is said, probably will have to step in and take a hand. The differences were said to have developed largely over the work of Supreme Court Justice Joseph M. Proskauer of New York, whose activities at the Houston convention have led him to be dubbed the "Col. Housekeeper" of the Smith campaign.

Peter Brady, prominent labor figure and now head of a labor banking institution, was reported to have openly expressed dissatisfaction with the Democratic platform, so far as labor is concerned, to Justice Proskauer, credited with much of the responsibility for the platform.

Old line Tammany men at Houston are said to have objected to the "high-handed" methods of George Van Namee, and even Mrs. Henry D. Moskowitz, who was the closest political adviser of the governor at Albany during the convention period, was reported as being criticized for not taking organization leaders sufficiently into confidence on Smith political affairs.

The governor on his arrival here said that he would confer Saturday with Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, chairman of the Democratic nomination committee, and talk over the details of the nomination ceremony.

It was believed here that the nomination date and other related matters might be settled at this conference.

there a whole winter—September, 1894, and part of 1895. In fact, that was the year that I went into office as commissioner of jurors—my first office. I really was a laborer at the pump works—unloading steel castings for boilers and engines."

Printed Chiffons Promise Coolness Exceptionally Priced at $25 and $35

Women's Dresses of Imported Chiffon . . . $25

The price is little indication of the actual value of these new dresses. The chiffons are imported assuring an exclusiveness of design seldom found in $25 frocks. And we emphatically call attention to the styles—uneven, circular hemlines mean extra yards of material! Each has a silk crepe slip excellently made.

Sixth Floor, South, Wabash

First at the left, a double flounce dips deep on one side, dark grounds with large flower patterns. Second, a graceful cape supplants sleeves in this flowered chiffon with snug hipline. Third, a delicate print on light backgrounds has a yoke, bow and circular flounces.

For Misses—Exquisite New Prints . . . $25 and $35

A remarkable feature of these frocks is that at this exceptional price you find style—that costly attribute—in both the fabric and cut of the frock. The prints are tasteful and exquisite, the styles new and most appealing to young girls and young women.

Sixth Floor, South, State

Fourth, petal-like pieces trim the plaited flounce of a smartly belted chiffon with a neckline tie, $35. Fifth, a snug hip band effect ties in a front bow. The uneven flaring skirt repeats the grace of the cape, various smart designs, $25.

NATION'S FOURTH OF JULY DEATH TOLL NOW 226

Victim of Lightning Found Near Waukegan.

Belated reports last night indicated that not less than 226 men, women, and children over the nation lost their lives from one cause or another on the Fourth of July. Serious injuries were comparatively few, but the number of minor injuries and mishaps ran up into the hundreds.

Chicago fatalities included the killing of one little boy from the explosion of a firecracker in a pan of gasoline, the death of a little girl from burns caused by a firecracker, the drowning of nine persons in either Lake Michigan or nearby streams, one auto death near Gary, Ind., one lightning death near Waukegan, that of Otto Gehrmann, 26, of 3351 Marshall avenue, who was struck while standing near a tree near Dear river. His body was not found until yesterday morning.

Over 100 Die in Water.
A good percentage of the fatalities over the country were caused by drownings, reports show, the total who lost their lives through the overturning of boats, the falling into streams while fishing, or while swimming, running up to more than 100. A total of 61 auto fatalities were recorded, while four were killed in airplane accidents and 4 by lightning. Stringent police regulations in practically all the important cities curtailed the sale of fireworks, and kept down the usual death toll from this source. Not more than a dozen lives were lost. James Eason, 31, 6316 Addison street, and Frances Stone, 5 years old, of 1535 South Lawrence avenue, were the only death victims of fireworks in Chicago. The little girl died at Mount Sinai hospital late last night from burns she received Wednesday when a firecracker ignited her dress.

Police last night were still searching vainly for trace of the bodies of Miss Elouise Root, 19 years old, an Oak Park high school senior, and of Lemuel Eddy, 20, Northwestern university student, who were drowned in the Des Plaines river near North avenue, Maywood, Tuesday night when their canoe capsized.

Toy Cannon Blinds Boy.
Bert Wildermuth, 17, Aurora, Ill., was blinded by the premature explosion of a toy cannon at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Ellen Dunton at Jansville, Wis., and the right hand of Leo Rotsien, 23, of Michigan City, Ind., was shattered by the accidental discharge of a shotgun. Two fingers of Albert Ruppert, 61, of 2302 North Hoyne avenue, were mutilated by the explosion of a firecracker he held in his hand, and police inclined to the belief that a stray bullet from the gun of some unknown Fourth celebrator was responsible for the fatal shooting of Apolinor Rodriguez, 24, whose body, a bullet hole in the heart, was found in the rear of 218 Alexander street.

MUMMIES OF 4 FROM STONE AGE FOUND IN ALASKA

(Copyright, 1928, by The New York Times.)
ABOARD SCHOONER MORRIS KEY, Radio via Prince Rupert, B. C., July 5. — The Morrissey expedition believes it has found what it came so many thousands miles to seek—the mummified remains of stone age man, preserved like the meat of the mutton, in this vast natural refrigerator of northern Alaska. On the summit of an inaccessible island they discovered an untouched tomb of ancient man—three adults and one infant—and with the perfectly preserved bodies all the clothing, domestic articles, hunting weapons and other paraphernalia that went with the burial of the early barbarian.

"L" TAKES FARE BOOST FIGHT TO FEDERAL COURT

and merchandise cars off the "L" tracks, and upheld the Illinois Commerce commission's authority in the matter, had been interpreted by former Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch and others as indicating that the "L" franchise ordinances are merely scraps of paper.

This view received strong support in the statement of Mr. Lucey, who was asked if the franchise could be terminated. "The city has no more control over the elevated company than over the Santa Fe, Illinois Central or the steam railroads," he replied. "All are incorporated under the railroad act and cannot be classed with the surface lines. The Supreme court, in this decision, merely upholds what we always have known—that the elevated lines have property rights which cannot be abrogated."

Mr. Lucey discounted Mr. Busch's assertion that "the city is being shorn of all power to regulate the elevated lines." "If the city was shorn of any rights," he said, "the shoring took place when the state legislature created the public utilities commission. The legislature gave the commission and the state commerce commission, general supervision over all public utilities and we cannot be blamed for its action. Neither can the Supreme court be questioned on a decision, consistent with all previous decisions, elucidating the legislature's intent."

The elevated company's attorney added that Mr. Busch was "seeing things" when he said hog and cattle cars might be handled around the loop. If the commission permits it, there is no intention to haul anything but passengers and merchandise, he said.

City Seeks Rehearing.

John G. Drennan, assistant corporation counsel, who is handling the North Shore litigation, was inclined to agree with Mr. Busch that the consequences of the decision, if upheld, will be far reaching and serious for the city. He said that the city has asked for a rehearing of the case.

The relation of the subway proceedings to the decision was pointed to by council members with grave doubts. Michael J. Faberty, president of the board of local improvements, now has a request pending for $600,000 to start plans for a State street subway with a view to leasing it, when completed, to the elevated company. If the city is stripped of regulatory powers, the aldermen said, such a procedure might prove dangerous.

"Suppose the subway were made a part of the elevated lines, and the commerce commission held that the intercorporate agreement with the North Shore line extended to the use of the tubes," said Ald. James B. Bowler (25). "Would that mean that merchandise cars could be operated through the subways?"

This is one of the points on which Mr. Ettelson will likely be questioned at the meeting called by Ald. McDonough for the first of next week.

Mr. Ettelson now is at Green Lake, Wis., on a vacation, and is expected back Sunday or Monday.

SALTIS FUGITIVE 47 DAYS; POLICE CONTINUE HUNT

Despite their repeated failures to capture Joe Saltis, south side beer baron hunted since ordered by the United States Supreme court to serve a sixty days' Bridewell sentence and pay a $50 fine on a gun toting charge, police are still pressing their search for the gangster, it became known last night. Saltis, originally convicted for gun toting more than a year and a half ago, spent yesterday as his 47th consecutive day as a fugitive from justice since arrival here of the high court writ.

THREE YOUTHFUL SLAYERS OF BOY SENT TO PRISON

One of Trio, 17 Years Old,
Is Given Life Term.

Three youths were on their way to Joliet penitentiary last night, one to serve a life term and the other two to spend many of their best adult years in prison. They were sentenced for the murder of a 7 year old boy whom they shot and killed in a holdup.

Roger Bonny, 17 years old, 3535 South Hamilton avenue, is the boy given the life term. His companions in the murder of Arthur C. Nelson Jr., son of Arthur Nelson, 7347 Vernon avenue, are Henry Raszynski, 20, of 3535 South Hamilton avenue, who was sentenced to 20 years, and Paul Grossman, 21, of 3337 South Hoyne avenue, given 14 years.

Arthur Nelson, father of the slain boy, who was so badly wounded by the young bandits that physicians declare he can never walk again without the aid of a cane, was not present in court when Judge Emanuel Eller pronounced the sentences. The robbery of the Nelson home and the murder occurred on April 15.

"I will not impose the death penalty in this case, as these boys had no intention of killing the little boy," declared Judge Eller. Assistant State's Attorney Emmet Byrne had demanded that Bonny at least should be sent to the electric chair.

The parents of the three boys, as well as a number of brothers and sisters, spent a tearful half hour of hawtalking with the defendants before guards led the latter back to the county jail to prepare for the journey to Joliet. The boys also wept, especially Bonny, who, it was said, had been in great fear of the chair.

Bonny and the others had rifled the Nelson home and were leaving when Nelson, with his wife and little son suddenly returned. Bonny fired point blank, killing the boy and seriously wounding the father, evidence showed. Several hours later the boys were traced to their homes and arrested. They immediately confessed.

POLICEMAN IS KILLED BY AUTO; DRIVER IS HELD

Witness' Story Leads to Capture.

Policeman Thomas McNamara, 25, of 4432 Berkeley avenue, who was struck by an automobile at 50th street and Drexel boulevard on Wednesday, died yesterday at the Washington Park hospital.

According to a witness, Mrs. J. Billings, 6125 St. Lawrence avenue, the driver of the car stopped, got out, looked at the unconscious policeman on the pavement and then returned to the vehicle and drove away. Mrs. Billings took the license number of the machine and it was traced to David Greenfield, 4170 Drexel boulevard.

At the inquest into McNamara's death in the afternoon Greenfield appeared with an attorney and surrendered. The inquest was continued to July 11 for investigation and Greenfield was held at the Hyde Park police station.

Harvey Stooten, 40, of 231 38th avenue, Ballwood, was killed and two men riding with him were injured when he lost control of his car at Archer and Oak Park avenues and it crashed into a parked truck. The injured are Fred Strickler, 24, and John Wagner, 27, both of Saginaw, Mich.

The deaths of McNamara and Stooten raised the Cook county motor toll since Jan. 1 to 50¢.

Thomas A. McDonald, 41, of 4447 Keystone avenue, was struck and killed by an automobile as he and his young son were walking on the Dupes highway near Farnsworth, Ind. The driver, Lewis Tordin of Gary, was held in the Valparaiso jail for the inquest. It is alleged that he tried to flee after the accident.

At Hammond, Joseph Korval of Indiana Harbor was killed when struck by an automobile driven by George Perry.

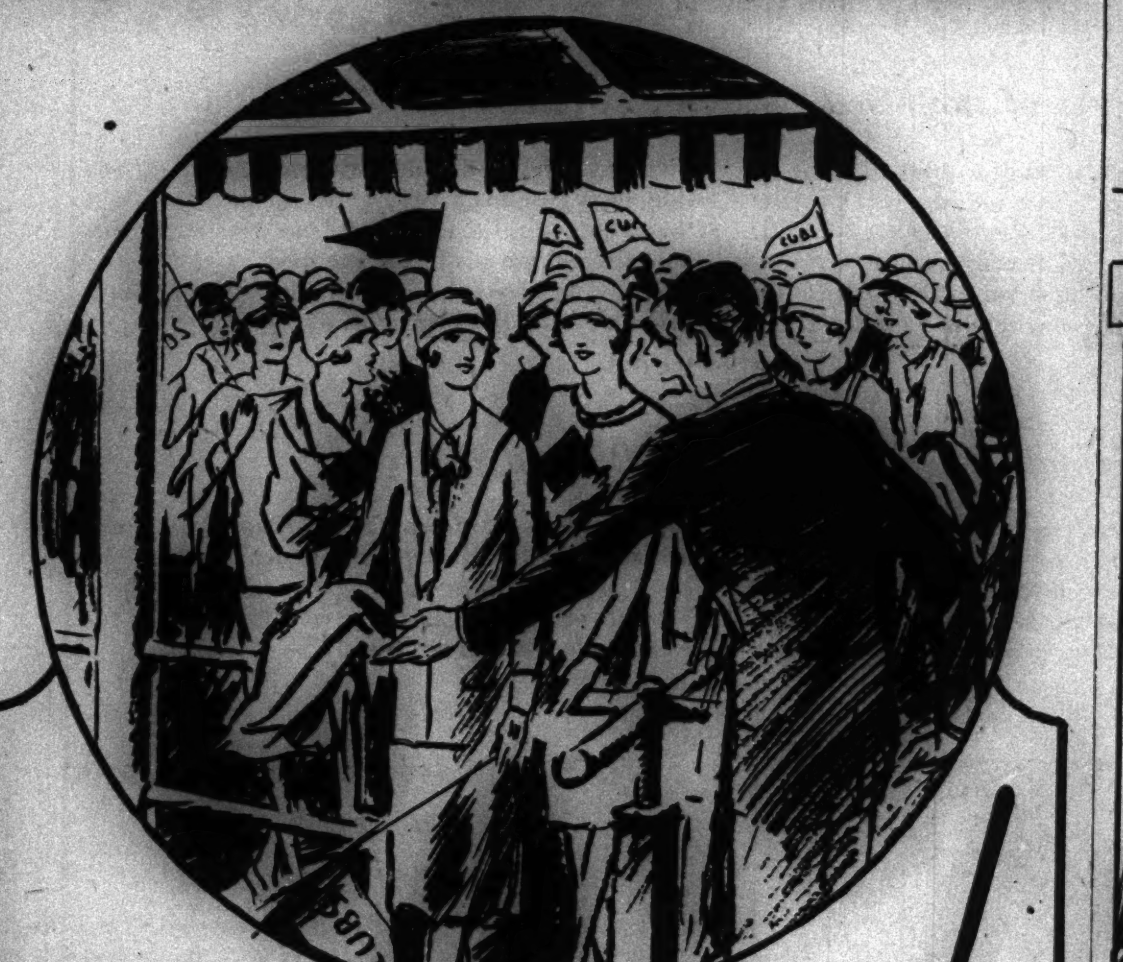

Two men charged with driving while intoxicated were fined and given jail sentences yesterday by Judge George A. Curran. They are Lloyd Huffman, 26, of 5149 West End avenue, a Yellow cab driver, and John Harrison, colored, 2237 Rhodes avenue.

YOU CAN DO ALL THIS IN SEVENTEEN DAYS

If you can squeeze in three more days over your regular vacation—you can go abroad—see London and Paris or other places and return. The extra few days are all you need worry about—for this trip costs less than your usual vacation here. But, it gives ever so much more in romance, adventure and experience—plus an ocean trip that will live in your memory forever.

If you're one of the fortunates whose vacation comes in August—you'll have the advantage of low winter rates.

You may be perfectly secluded with your own thoughts and the ocean vastness.

Or you may do dear old London and store up a host of memories.

Or you may participate in the games on deck and form interesting friendships.

Then you have more glorious days on board ship homeward bound.

You can skip over to Paris and purchase an exclusive wardrobe for a trifle.

And, you'll arrive with money saved, if you've taken advantage of the winter rates.

A SHORT TIME LATER SHE ADVERTISED IN TH' TRIBUNE FOR A POSITION AND LANDED ONE—SO NO WONDER SHE'S SITTING ON TH' MOON GAZIN' AT TH' STARS.

"On January 27 I was left a widow. I owned a bungalow but found that I had no money even for taxes. As I did not want to sell my home I decided to lease it, but found that a very difficult thing to do in mid-winter. In my Predicament I called The Tribune and inserted an ad. One ad brought so many applicants that I leased my house the very same day."

"Two weeks later I advertised for a position and found exactly what I wanted immediately."

GRACE I. ROBINSON,

She Feared She Couldn't Rent Her Bungalow in mid-winter—but a Tribune Want Ad Did It!

MRS. ROBINSON'S "Predicament" was serious. She was a widow with a bungalow on her hands . . . she could not pay the taxes . . . and thought she could not find a tenant for it in mid-winter.

But she tried a Tribune Want Ad. The same day it appeared a satisfactory tenant leased her home. Encouraged, she placed a "Situation Wanted" ad—and got a good position. THREE YEARS OF LEADERSHIP

Over All Evening Newspapers
IN NEW YORK

THE SUN'S leadership in advertising is not an accident. Advertisers use The Sun most because they get the best results from The Sun—the best returns on their investments.

For no other reason would they go on, year after year, buying more space in The Sun than in other New York evening papers.

Every month, without exception, for the last three years The Sun has led all New York evening newspapers in volume of advertising.

Each year The Sun's volume has been larger than in the preceding year.

Each year The Sun has increased its margin of leadership over the second evening newspaper.

During the first six months of 1928 The Sun published 8,469,000 lines of advertising. This was a gain over the corresponding period of last year and was 1,452,000 lines more than the volume of the second evening newspaper.

1928 . . .	16,528,556	2,797,050

The Sun's leadership in advertising—its superiority in productiveness—is based on its large circulation among people who constitute the most desirable audience for advertisers—people of means and intelligence—people who have many needs, wide activities, large responsibilities.

But underneath The Sun's leadership in advertising, underneath the character and the size of its circulation, lies The Sun itself—a clean, reliable newspaper, publishing all the news as soon as it occurs and edited for all members of the family.

MOBILE'S REPORT OF ITALIA CRASH STIRS NEW HOPE

Shows Six Men with Bag
May Be Alive.

BULLETIN.
ROME, July 5.—(AP)—An official communique from the Citta di Milano says that Swedish flyers today succeeded in dropping provisions, medical supplies and new batteries to the marooned members of the Italia's crew near Foy Island.

ROME, July 5.—(AP)—Although still uncertain as to what happened to the six men aboard the gas bag of the dirigible Italia when it tore loose from the main gondola on May 25, Gen. Umberto Nobile still has hopes that they may be alive.

In a new official report telling of the mystery which surrounds the fate of the men, Gen. Nobile recommended that a search be made over a region 15 to 18 miles from the point at which the gold-colored came down off North East Land. He felt that if the skeleton structure of the dirigible was not found at this distance, it was highly probable that the bag had descended a few miles further on in safety and that the six men might be found alive.

Two Theories of Fate.
Although several of the party which had been spilled on the ice from the gondola, saw a huge cloud of smoke toward the east in the direction of the gas bag, Gen. Nobile himself did not hear of this until several days later.

He advanced two theories as to what caused this cloud of smoke: One, that the gas bag itself had caught fire, and the other that the smoke was produced by benzene reservoirs which had been dropped from the bag to keep it from descending too quickly.

The general felt that the bag could have descended safely because there was at least one man aboard it who was not harmed and who knew what to do in an emergency. This was Lieut. Ettore Arduino, who was seen passing along the dirigible's beam shortly after the gondola had been torn loose. While Arduino regarded those on the ice with stupefied eyes, he was not in the least discouraged, but felt sure he would have tried to bring the bag down as quickly as possible.

To Establish New Base.
VIRGO EAY, Spitzbergen, July 5.—(U. P.)—The work of rescuing the stranded men of the transpolar dirigible Italia was placed upon a new basis today when it was decided to have the Swedish seaplane establish a gasoline and food supply station on the northeast land coast nine miles from the ice encampment from which Gen. Umberto Nobile was rescued.

Capt. Elmer-Paul Lundborg, who rescued Nobile and then crashed when he attempted to bring off the companions of the dirigible's commander, sent a wireless message today saying he was patiently waiting rescue, but that the ice was becoming so thin that landing an airplane on it would be dangerous. He recommended that seaplanes be used.

The foe upon which Lundborg and five men are encamped has been driven five miles westward since Wednesday.

The Russian icebreaker Krasnia has been unable to extricate herself from the pack ice.

Funeral Rites Tomorrow for the Rev. F. J. Walsh

Funeral services for the Rev. Francis J. Walsh, C. M., who died on Wednesday in New Orleans, where he had gone in an effort to regain his health, will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. in St. Vincent's church, Webster and Sheffield avenues. Father Walsh was 61 years old. For years he was a teacher in St. Vincent's college at Cape Girardeau, Mo., and also for a time held a pastorate in New Orleans.

Death Claims W. M. Hickey of Lake View State Bank

William M. Hickey, vice president of the Lake View State Bank, died yesterday in Columbus Memorial hospital after an illness of two months. He was 46 years old. Born in Chicago, Ill., Mr. Hickey spent part of his life in Kankakee.

W. T. Sheehan, Ex-Editor of Montgomery Paper, Is Dead

Montgomery, Ala., July 5.—(AP)—William Thomas Sheehan, former editor of the Montgomery Advertiser, died tonight following an illness which first attacked him in October, 1925. He was 54 years old.

JAMES F. LELAND, secretary of the Munsell Publishing company for more than forty years, will be buried today in Graceland cemetery, following services at 1 p. m. in the cemetery chapel. Mr. Leland died on Wednesday at his home, 1601 Berneau avenue. He is survived by his widow and two sons.

Elmer Delights in Recital Given by Mrs. Sherreff

Recommends Her Voice for Wider Recognition.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Introducing Mrs. Andrew Sherreff, soprano, heard in an altogether too brief recital from W-G-N at 7:30. Brilliant, vibrant, ardent, appealing, youthful, yet mature; all virtues and no shortcomings discernible. Her program was mostly of operatic selections. I know little of this singer, but her voice deserves recognition throughout the land.

And there was Miss Honor Winer, soprano, in a classical recital from WMAQ at 8:15. This name is beginning to take on a familiar air, fortunately. Not a large voice, but it is pleasing and likeable; a voice with a classic atmosphere about it; and one that can sing "The Lass with a Delicate Air," and make one think it is coming from a lass with a delicate air.

At the close of Miss Winer's first group of songs the Whitney trio played complete, Chausson's only string trio. Somehow, as these tones, heavy, sad, agonizing, pretentious, and portentous beyond the usual for French origin, came rolling in, one could not help thinking what a loss to music it was, that this composer's life was out short while yet in the fullness of his powers.

The scene changes. The curtain rises, revealing the musical comedy, "Miss Nobody from Starland," as revived by the Harry Spingold players, W-G-N, 9 to 10. The musical shows of that twenty years ago period in Chicago so far resurrected by this company have a total coloring that is as nearly alive as peas in a pod. Only the plots differ, and the plots are, so far as radio productions go, incidental and immaterial. The music is melodious, harmonious, enchanting, and yesterday like. I don't remember, but in those days I think the girls in the shows must have worn long tresses and long dresses, for the melodies and the harmony and the dialogue are idealistic, ethereal, and enchanting.

ENTERTAINMENT VETS OF SPANISH WAR AT MT. VERNON

Mount Vernon, Ill., July 5.—(Special.)—Mount Vernon, which furnished two companies in the Spanish-American war, is today host to the veterans of that war. Several hundred veterans and almost as many women of the auxiliary assembled here today for the reunion.

Louis L. Emmerson, candidate for governor on the Republican ticket; Oscar B. Carlstrom, attorney general, a past commander of the veterans; and William S. O. Orlin, commander of the department of Illinois; Gen. John J. Garrity and Charles G. Essee, Chicago, were speakers.

Charles C. Richardson, for 20 years a Chicago policeman, and Willie Blingham of Marseilles, Ill., who served in the same company with Gen. Garrity, met here today for the first time in 30 years.

Father of 6 Starts to Buy Home; Loses Life's Savings

James Fekete of 2232 Burley avenue, a laborer and the father of six small children, yesterday decided to buy a lot as the first step towards getting a home. So he drew his life's savings—$500—from the bank and took his wife and children to see the lot. He was in a state of excitement, his wife beside him and his baby on his hip. When they got to the lot Fekete discovered the $500 was gone. It was all he had in the world and it took him a long, long time to save it, he told the police last night, adding he believed it slipped out of his pocket—that he lost it.

The Biggest Fan in the World

DAME Nature operates it. Its air currents are never still. Life, health and efficiency depend on their uninterrupted movement. A pause would invite universal disaster. Human lungs, to remain healthy, must have the quantity of oxygen that pure air alone provides. Stagnant air inhaled by the lungs means lowered vitality with its attendant ills.

Modern living conditions, if the healthful benefits of air in motion are to be enjoyed, make electric fans indispensable. No enclosure—home or office—where people live or work should be without one or more electric fans. In the home they can be moved from room to room, vitalizing the air with refreshing motion, relieving fatigue and bringing comfort. They are all-season necessities. No need to perspire in a hot kitchen, to breathe stuffy air or snatch fitful slumber on a restless bed.

Portable electric fans come in various sizes and models. The cost of operating them is less than a cent an hour. They can be used when and where needed—provided you have convenience outlets (plug-ins) in each room. If your home is adequately wired—that is, up to Red Seal requirements—you can use all the labor and time-saving, comfort and convenience-giving electrical appliances. Ask us about the Red Seal Plan. You'll be amazed at the small cost of rewiring, and the little trouble entailed to you. We will gladly help you on these problems without any obligation on your part. That is the big reason for our Association—service to the public.

Capt. Thomas L. Porter, who, until his transfer to California two years ago, had been in charge of the local headquarters of the United States secret service for 41 years, returned to the federal building yesterday to meet his old acquaintances. Capt. Porter, who is 53 years old, has retired from the government service. While here he will visit his two daughters, Mrs. H. L. Sommers, 1405 East 46th place, and Mrs. T. W. Hay, 6124 Blackstone avenue.

Housekeeper Sues Church Leader; Demands $150,000

New York, July 5.—(Special.)—Sue asking $150,000 from Archbishop H. Smith, 55, Sunday school teacher and one of the supporters of the Second Presbyterian church of Paterson, N. J., and naming him as the father of her three months old daughter, was begun today by Mrs. Martha Weinmann, 32, his former housekeeper. Mrs. Weinmann, a divorcee, charges that Smith twice attacked her shortly after she answered his advertisement for a housekeeper in 1926.

COUNTY TRAINING CAMP QUOTA IS NEARLY FILLED

Cook county's quota for the Citizens' Military Training camp which opens at Fort Sheridan on July 27 is 850. Already 700 applicants have been awarded places and John J. Mitchell, the county chairman, urged yesterday that those desiring to attend file their applications at once for the other 150 places.

Only men between 17 and 24 years of good character will be accepted if their credentials are approved and they can pass the physical examinations, nothing further is necessary. The camp lasts a month and business houses in the city have been asked to grant employees attending it vacations with pay.

Application blanks and full information can be obtained at the office of the Military Training Camps association, room 705 at 6 N. Michigan avenue.

AIRPLANE TOUR AT FORT WORTH WITH 23 PLANES

Fort Worth, Tex., July 5.—(AP)—The municipal airport here was host tonight to twenty-three airplanes participating in the tour to the Pacific coast, the northwest and back to Detroit, the starting point.

Twenty-four planes left Tulsa, Okla., shortly after nine o'clock this morning. One of them, a Ryan biplane, had not completed the 240 mile hop tonight. E. W. Cleveland, pilot, telephoned from Krum, Tex., that he had been forced down by engine trouble. First to arrive, a Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company plane, piloted by Al Henley, landed at 11:30 a. m., closely followed by the Crosley-Waco Radio plane, Charles Meyers, pilot, carrying a radio operator and a passenger. The others followed quickly.

Before the last plane had landed several thousand spectators gathered at the airport.

Eddie Stinson arrived with a new motor in his Stinson-Detroit, installed at Tulsa, in three hours and 45 minutes.

The tourists will remain here until Saturday morning, when they will take off for San Antonio.

NEW YORK GANG KING BURIED IN SILVER COFFIN

Hunt Capone Gunmen as His Murderers.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
New York, July 5.—(Special).—They buried Frankie Uale today and it was Brooklyn's finest funeral. When the gangster's $15,000 silver coffin slid into its steel and concrete container, gangland's truce ended. All through the five boroughs police and detectives awaited the inevitable back of a pistol. The stage is set for the underworld's greatest battle. But first they buried Frankie Uale. They gave him a $50,000 funeral and twenty thousand came to mourn or to watch. The gangsters and the politicians rubbed shoulders with the unwashed and the honest poor. They were present to see the passing of Brooklyn's "Robin Hood," who lived by the gun and died by it. There was pomp and ceremony, shrieks and tears, and threats spelled out in blood red roses.

O'Banion Rites Outdone.

Frankie had wished for a greater funeral than Dion O'Banion, Chicago gunman. O'Banion had more judges and men high in political life at his funeral, but Uale drew the crowd. There were tons of flowers for the "godfather to 1,000 children." There were 250 automobiles in a mile long parade. There were 10,000 mourners in the line and 100 detectives and patrolmen. Some of the detectives came from Chicago, for police are linking the crime with the western city's underworld.

Women held sniveling children high in their arms and thousands fought and tore at one another as mass was celebrated this morning in St. Rose's Catholic church in Brooklyn. There were gangsters everywhere. "Louis the Wolf" headed a delegation from Harlem and "Little Augie" Plesano, master of ceremonies, scurried about Frankie's gleaming coffin.

38 Loads of Flowers.

Police kept back the crowd as thirty-eight open automobiles loaded with floral tributes lined up behind the coffin, after it had been borne from the church and placed on an ornate catafalque. The most striking contribution was a massive piece in red and white roses. It carried the following message: "We'll see them, kid."

Another was in the shape of a huge floral heart and protruding from the center of the heart was a dagger. One bore the words, "Good-by, old timer."

Thousands filed into Holy Cross cemetery after the procession had arrived there. Uale's first wife—the

FATHER OPENS FIGHT TO WIN ARTHUR RICH PAROLE FROM PRISON

Lansing, Mich., July 5.—(Special).—A new effort designed, it is believed, to win a parole for Arthur Rich, wealthy youth serving a life sentence for criminally assaulting Louise King, Battle Creek college co-ed, in May, 1925, was launched here today at a conference between Gov. Fred W. Green, Attorney General Brucker, relatives of young Rich, and representatives of the Battle Creek college.

The Rich forces won a point when Gov. Green consented to have the University of Michigan laboratory examine weekly the next two weeks the X-ray plates which formed an important link in the evidence upon which Rich was convicted.

George R. Rich, father of the convicted youth, charged that the plates failed to bear out the prosecution's charge that Rich fractured the girl's jaw.

If it is determined that the X-ray plates are faulty or were wrongly interpreted at the trial, it is considered likely that an application for parole will be made in behalf of Rich. It was definitely stated that a new trial is not to be sought.

One he left for another—broke away from the gangster's two brothers—Angelo and John, and darted toward the open grave.

"Good-by, Frankie, good-by forever," she screamed as she sought to leap into the pit. Some one caught her as she fainted.

Hunt Capone Gunmen.

While the Brooklyn gangster's body was being sealed in its thief-proof home, police were reporting progress in the search for Uale's slayers.

They said they had learned that four Chicago gunmen, fresh from a conference with "Scarface" Al Capone in Florida, arrived here Saturday. It was the following day that Uale was killed. They say the trouble between the Chicago had men and Uale started three weeks ago. There was a conference in Miami between leaders from the east and the west. Uale was summoned, but he did not report. "Come or we will get you," was the word sent to him.

LINDY BREAKS HIS INDIFFERENCE TO SOCIETY LIFE

New York, July 5.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has broken his indifference to the pleasures of society.

Last night he was a guest at a beach party at the home of Mrs. Henry Pomeroy Davison, near Locust Valley, L. I. The colonel piloted a seaplane on several trips, taking up members of the Davison family for short rides.

There was dancing at the party, but whether the flying ace indulged in this recreation was not learned.

MAY SHOWS UP AS PRETTY GOOD BUSINESS MONTH

BY HARPER LEECH.

Because the latter part of 1927 was a period of declining business volume and we are now in a period of business acceleration, after allowing for seasonal factors, monthly comparisons of business in 1927 and 1928 from now on, in a majority of cases, will favor the present year. But the official and complete statistics for May, 1928, are not yet available, when compared with May, 1927, a month of pretty good business suggests that the pick-up this year has been going much ahead of expectations.

In the production of raw materials for the manufacturing industry, there is a great many of the big lines, and for all manufacturing only slightly behind 1927.

This suggests that goods have been moving into consumption more rapidly than they are coming into being at the originating end of the chain and that means that demand will shortly be running ahead of supply for many things.

For instance, we consumed about 4,944,000 tons of iron ore in May, 1928, against 5,012,000 tons in May, 1927, but the index of iron and steel production for May, 1928, stood at 117 against 116 for May, 1927, the first six months of this year marked up a record for steel making, and the index of unfilled iron and steel orders stood at 72 at the end of May, 1928, as compared to 64 at the end of May, 1927.

Going further toward consumption in metal products we note that new orders for steel castings in May, 1928, were $2,124 tons against 77,744 tons in May last year; that steel furniture shipments in May this year totaled $2,110,000, against $2,529,000 May last year; that shipments of steel shoveling in May this year were worth $769,000, against $588,000 in the same month last year.

New orders for steel plate for the same two months ran 42,376 and 37,832 tons, respectively; production of radiators in May, 1928, was 16,413 and 14,797 for May, 1927, and 1927, respectively. New orders for electric hoists were 482 and 307; new orders for enameled bath tubs, 17,128 and 109,206, with bathtubs, sinks, etc., running in similar ratios. Shipments of brick, plate, glass production, unfilled orders for vitreous china fixtures, production of glass containers, production and new orders for box board, sales of life insurance—item after item disclose May, 1928, running ahead of May, 1927.

Figures such as these represent actual work performed, and actual work ordered to be done.

TRADE INCREASES IN CURB LIST AND PRICES MOVE UP

New York, July 5.—(AP)—The curb market today experienced the broadest activity since the break of three weeks ago put a damper on operations. The general tendency was upward, and in all groups there were sharp advances.

Bullish demonstrations in mining shares sent Noranda up 9 points to a new high at 29 1/2. Noranda gained 4 1/2 and Hudson Bay gained more than a point during sales of 75,000 shares.

Several low priced specialties were again active.

Concurrent strength of Canadian mining and Spanish and General, the latter touching a new high at 6 1/2, was based on reports that M. J. Meahan and Frank Stanton, prominent operators in radio stocks, had acquired a substantial interest in each company.

Stocks in which Alfred Lowenstein, Belgian capitalist, who fell to his death from an airplane last night, was under good to be interested, attracted considerable attention but generally failed to follow the downward trend of the Lowenstein shares on foreign markets.

Tubize, a volatile issue, dropped 5 points when went up 20. Electric Bond and Share and United Gas Improvement made good gains. Aluminum Co. of America was the only one to decline, losing 5 points.

Banqueting closed at 12 1/2, up 1/2. Industrial making good gains included Columbia, Standard, Parke Davis, Niles-Bement-Pond, Columbia, Graphophone, Aero Supply B, and Swift International.

Automotive shares were generally strong. Checker Cab touching a new high at 2 1/2, Ford Motor of Canada gaining 10 points in narrow trading, and Safe-T-Rite, and Sparks Withington making good gains. Pines Winthrop touched a new high at 117. Chain Stores made sharp gains.

Outfit led a general advance in the stock with a gain of 5 1/2. In the strong utility group, American Light and Traction advanced 13 points.

Extra Dividend Voted by Packard Directors

Directors of the Packard Motor Car company yesterday declared an extra dividend of $1 payable July 21 to stockholders of record July 17. They also declared the regular 3 1/2 per cent monthly dividends for the months of September, October and November. Profits as of May 31 were announced as $17,801,000. This, according to Alvin Macaulay, president of the company, indicates earnings of $29,000,000 for the year.

Directors of Dunts Bros. declared a dividend of 10 cents a share on the common stock and the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 a share on the preferred, both payable Aug. 1 to stock of record July 25. A dividend of 50 cents a share was paid on the common stock on July 3 of this year.

HEDGING SALES WEAKEN WHEAT; JULY CORN GAINS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Hedging pressure against new crop wheat coming from the southwest was the dominating influence in the market yesterday, and while Liverpool came better than the undertone was heavy throughout the day and the finish was at net losses of 1/8¢ to 3/8¢, with July leading. Corn was 1/4¢ higher, which acted tight, while oats were 1/4¢ lower and rye off 1/8¢.

Excellent weather conditions prevailed over the southwest and harvesting of wheat is making rapid progress in Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, with a crop of new No. 1 red received at St. Louis. Aggressive activity of old and new wheat at Kansas City, Hutchinson and Wichita were 1,440 cars, and Wichita, Kas., alone expects receipts of 1,500 cars today. There was a noticeable lack of export demand for hard winter wheat at the grain, although it was claimed that it was offered at 30 over Chicago September.

Canadian Reports Favorable.

There was selling of futures here against purchases in the northwest. Russia was said to have bought 1,100,000 bu. of wheat abroad, and export sales at the seaboard were finally estimated at 1,500,000 bu., largely Manitoba, but had no effect here, and the best support came from shorts and buying against bids. Winnipeg closed 1/8¢ higher to 1/4¢ lower as compared with Tuesday, with July showing the most strength. Reports on the Canadian crop were favorable, and showed improvement during the last week. Liverpool finished unchanged to 1/4¢ higher.

July corn acted tight and advanced to 1/4¢ early, a new high on the present movement, but the bulge brought in profit taking, and selling by cash interests and when wheat weakened, corn followed. December reacted 1/8¢ to 1/4¢, and the market closed within a fraction of the top. Excellent weather conditions prevailed for the new crop, and reports from the interior were favorable. Shipping demand was relatively slow, with the spot basis steady to 1/4¢ higher.

Oats Ease With Corn.

Action of the corn market was the main influence in oats, and while the market was firmer early the undertone was easy toward the last. A cereal interest brought December. Crop reports were rather favorable. Houses with eastern connections bought rye early, but the close was heavy in sympathy with wheat. Export sales were finally estimated at 100,000 bu. in all positions.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

With prospects of increasing receipts of new wheat in the southwest accompanied by hedging pressure on all bulges, the new approach of similar pressure from the northwest in the near future, and no export demand, wheat traders are inclined to look for lower prices. At the same time there is evidence of accumulation on all bulges, and of increased selling pressure on bulges.

Foreigners were credited with being fair sellers of wheat futures here, while Chicago operators sold futures here and bought in Winnipeg. The trade is active, with a disposition to go slow in buying for a few days at least, or until they are more sure of the bullish foreign news, being of a lasting character.

July corn of tight and is held by strong interests who know its value as well as any of the cash interests," said an operator who is credited with knowing a great deal of what is going on. He predicts higher prices and does not believe that an advance will bring out much corn from the country. On yesterday's advance 75,000 bu. of corn were bought to arrive and sold in the pit for this month's delivery.

The mystery of the grain trade has been that up to today it has been to the volume of sales and the open interest was available until within the last few years. Now the Grain Futures Administration, in addition to reporting sales on the Chicago Board of Trade, also gives the open interest in each grain. These reports are available daily. They tend to give operators a insight as to the actual position and changes that occur as a result of the daily fluctuations in prices as affected by the news.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Foreign demand for cash wheat over the holiday was fairly active with sales of around 1,000,000 bu. in all positions, largely by Manitoba, to the United Kingdom and continent, with 100,000 bu. on export.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

[illegible]

The household machinery but from the angle of personal agreeableness.

A woman will have to subscribe to various tests of companionability before she can prove that she home will be more agreeable with her in it.

This marked bachelors' preference for owning their own homes is going to result in either one of two things. They will find life more peaceful without woman, or she is going to be such a creature of agreeable virtues that they'll be forced to take her on in spite of their resolves.
